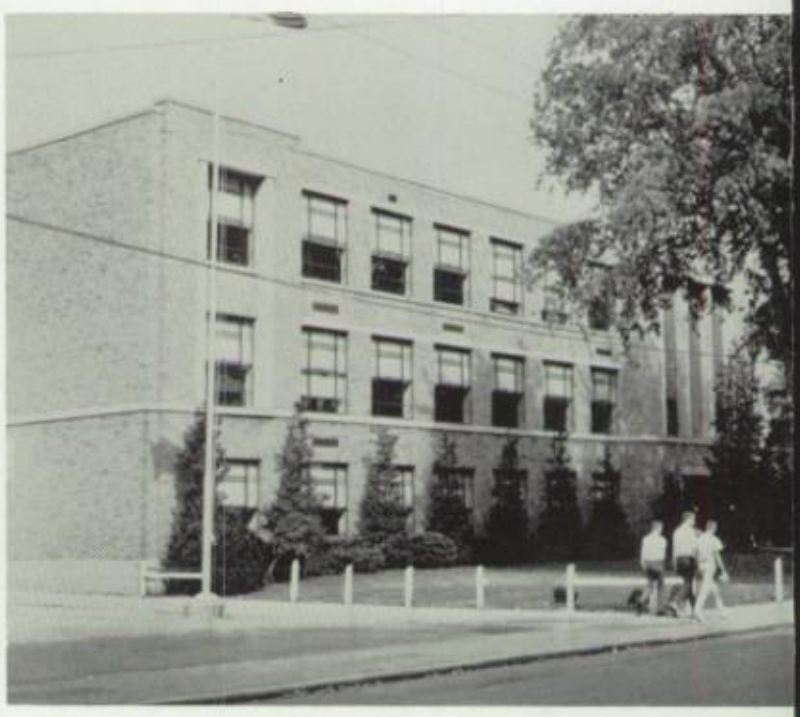
From the Hicksville Public School, erected in 1896 and razed in 1957, graduated the class of 1916.



Hicksville High School houses grades nine through twelve.

Newly opened in 1956, the Hicksville Elementary School encompasses kindergarten through grade eight.

Enter—
the fiftieth consecutive volume of the Hicksville High School annual.
Years
have sped by.
Golden years.
Years of work,
of relaxation,
of tireless effort.
Rewarding years.
From the Blue and White, 1916, has emerged
the Hixonian, 1965.
Fifty chronicles:
each new year
recorded.
Hicksville Exempted Schools
dissected, then unified
under one cover:
joys,
sorrows,
moments of triumph,
golden memories.

Gratitude felt for this documentary, this book of sentiment.
Each editor,
each staff member reveres his book,
an entity derived from annals of gold.

1965 brings a new era.
Debts of memory,
irrepayable,
tie this book to Volume I—to the previous forty-nine.
To dedicate to the ideals and precedents of those years
shrouded in gold Hixonian, 1965,
pays tribute to the greatness evolved from Hicksville High School.

The End of a Golden Past . . .

'64-'65 Passes in Quick Review

At the senior and awards assembly, several of the seniors present the program, with John Hoovler reading the class prophecy.

Studyhall—jammed—filled with students studying . . .
Library—research is the order of the day . . .
Classes—fascinating subject matter or potent instructors . . .
Seniors' final nostalgic moments—the academic year began and ended—rapidly, unbelievably, irrevocably.

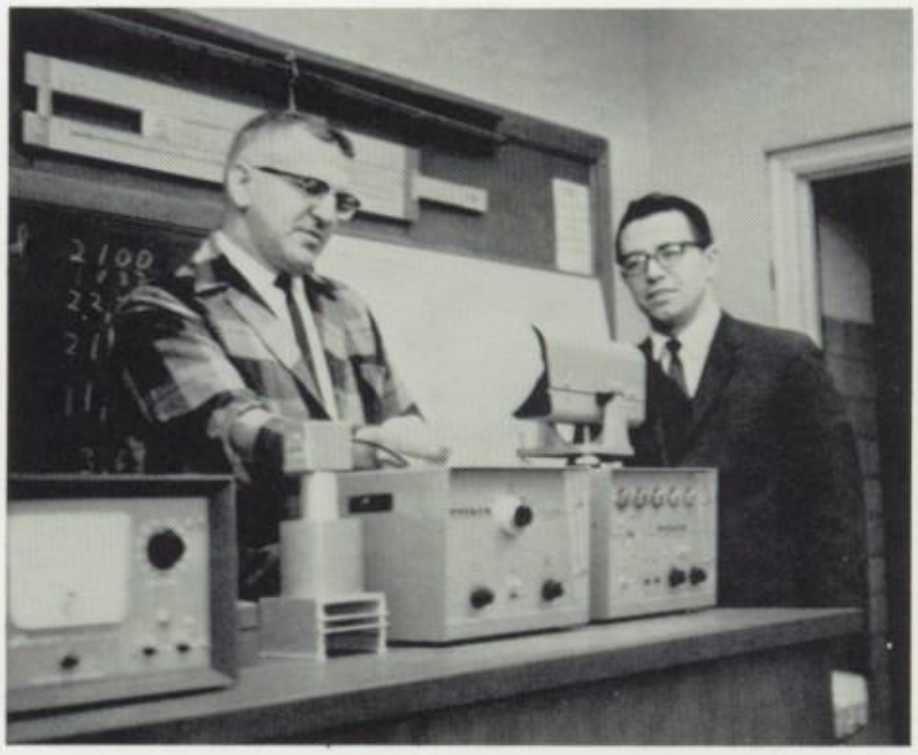
Preparing the bane of the lives of all students—report cards—Mr. William Jones uses adding machines to figure his grades.

For the last time, the seniors of 1965 appear as a unit; in one hour, they will be alumni.

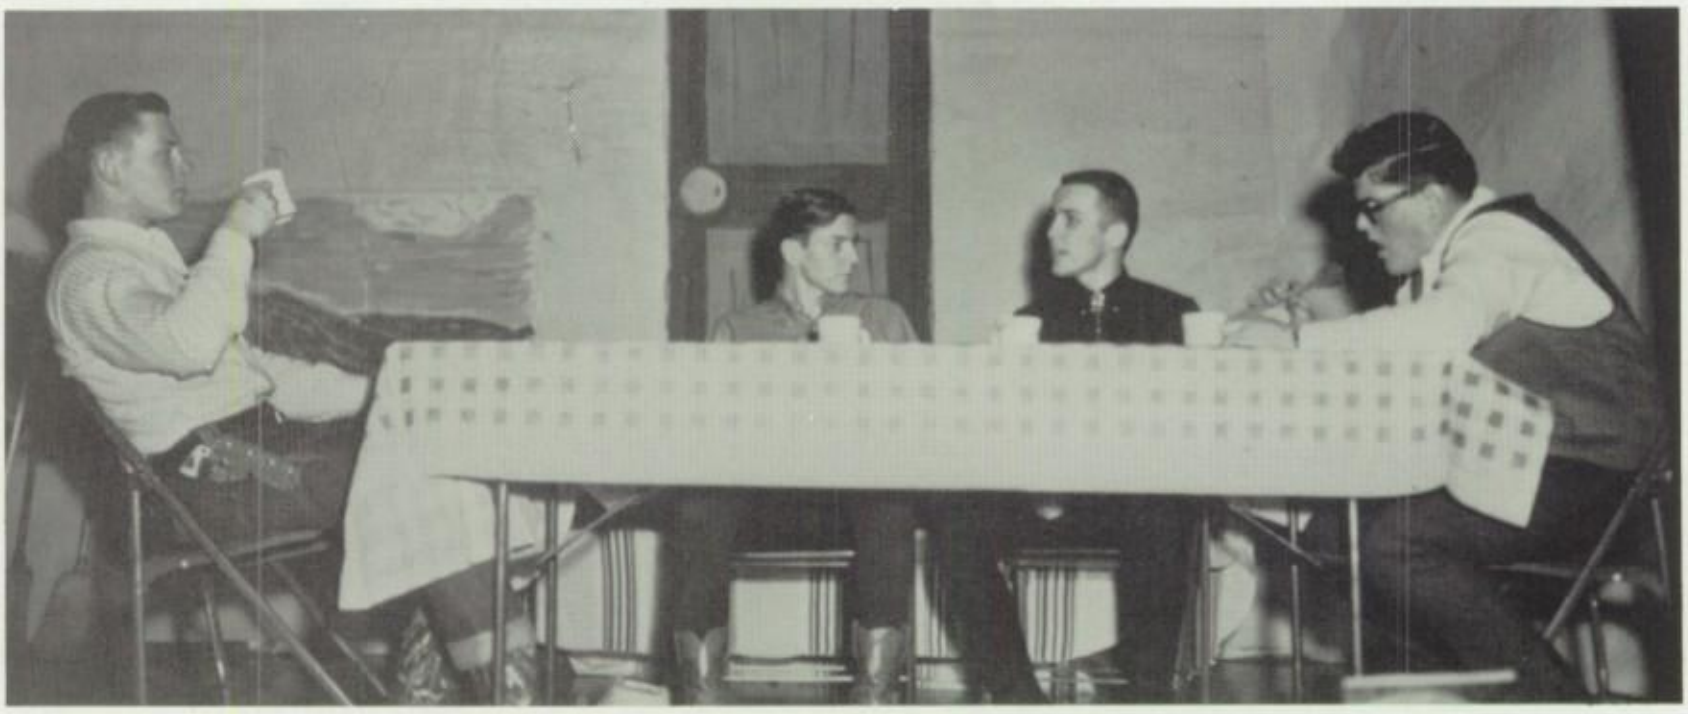
Scene of many a frantic search, standby for all projects and reports, Hicksville High School's library fills rapidly each period.

Studyhall—testimony to the necessity of outside time to be spent on school work, the studyhall holds students dedicated to finishing their assignments.



Physics instructor Philip Wahl tests a Laser, demonstrated by Dr. Harry Miller of Defiance College.

Activity Characterizes Each Moment . . .



"Spectacular '65"—the seniors presented their coronation. "I haven't been engaged for two weeks," laments Tom Cromwell to the cast of "Bonanza."

"Decorate—it's Homecoming," signifies the seniors' attitude for after-the-game dances.

Surrounded by the "Fantasy of the Sea," juniors and seniors sway to the music of the Junior-Senior Prom.

Winning sophomores of the one-act play contest—taking honors in Pink Lemonade for Tomorrow—relax on set.

Class elections in the fall added a new method of nomination and election: nomination by petition, campaign for office, and finally voting by secret ballot.

Extracurricular—yet as important as

HHS Relies on Administrative Decisions

Acting as the governing body of Hicksville Exempted Village Schools, the school board is directly concerned with the facilities and present and future expansions of the schools. Included in the duties of this group of elected officials are the approval of appropriations, the preparation of the budget for each school year, and the determination of the curriculum offered to the students. This board explores the school's needs, then attempts to supply the items necessary to meet the requirements placed on the school by the students.

Through its actions and services to the school, this body provides the means for satisfactory completion of an academic program accredited by the Ohio Board of Education. The policies set forth by the Hicksville Board of Education are interpretations of the Ohio education laws as they apply to the Hicksville Exempted Village School system.

In his new office, Principal Harold E. Ringer examines some of the school records on file in the main office.

In more direct contact with the school itself and with its inner policies, Superintendent Normand Jones, Principal Harold E. Ringer, and Principal Raymond L. Hook function as the official heads of the school administration. All major decisions made by these men are based on policies determined by the board of education. Their duties range from supervision of the programs of study to the planning for both the school year in session and in succeeding years.

Members of the Hicksville Board of Education, Mrs. Martha Green, Mr. Claron Laub, President William Cleland, Sr., Dr. Paul B. Kerr, Clerk Bernard Whonsetler, and Vice-President John Hofner, formulate policies for Hicksville Exempted Village Schools.

Year 'round, Administrative

Secretary to Superintendent Normand Jones is Mrs. Lura Thiel. Also in her line of duty is supervision of all student office work at the high school.

Mrs. Connie Hostetler, at the Hicksville Elementary School, runs the office efficiently and acts as Principal Raymond Hook's secretary.

Pupil personnel director Gaylord E. Gerig, B.A., M.A., is an integral part of the Hicksville schools' administration.

Looking on as the office girls, Margaret Miller, Sue Amaden, Donna Monroe, Ellen Walter, Donna Bauer, Virlynn Rex, Judy Minnig, and Alice May, complete their duties is Mrs. Lura Thiel.

"And what may I do for you?" Mr. Gaylord E. Gerig asks Lana Richmond.

Personnel Solve Problems

Aiding Mrs. Lura Thiel and gaining practical experience in secretarial work, the office girls work diligently. They perform such duties as operation of the ditto and mimeograph machines and completion of the records at the high school. Each of the eight girls works one period a day, helping students and teachers, as well as typing notices for the office. Their work, supplementing Mrs. Lura Thiel in her duties, allows her to devote most of her time to such jobs as making out checks and keeping the administrative records.

The girls' chief function is to help keep the office work running smoothly throughout the school year, while Mrs. Thiel works all year at this time-consuming task.

Mr. Gerig Has . . .

Our present Pupil Personnel Program was inaugurated by Gaylord E. Gerig, our present Guidance Director, in 1962. The emphasis of the first year centered about pupil conferences; a complete testing program, and academic placement, including aiding college bound pupils in their planning. For those whose aims do not include further education, counseling is given in regard to terminal training, apprenticeship training, or entering the world of work. The most appropriate endeavor can then be chosen by the pupil.

Since his arrival two years ago, this department has expanded greatly. Thus, this year found him in a new conference room adjacent to the office.

Spanish Flavors
Language Department

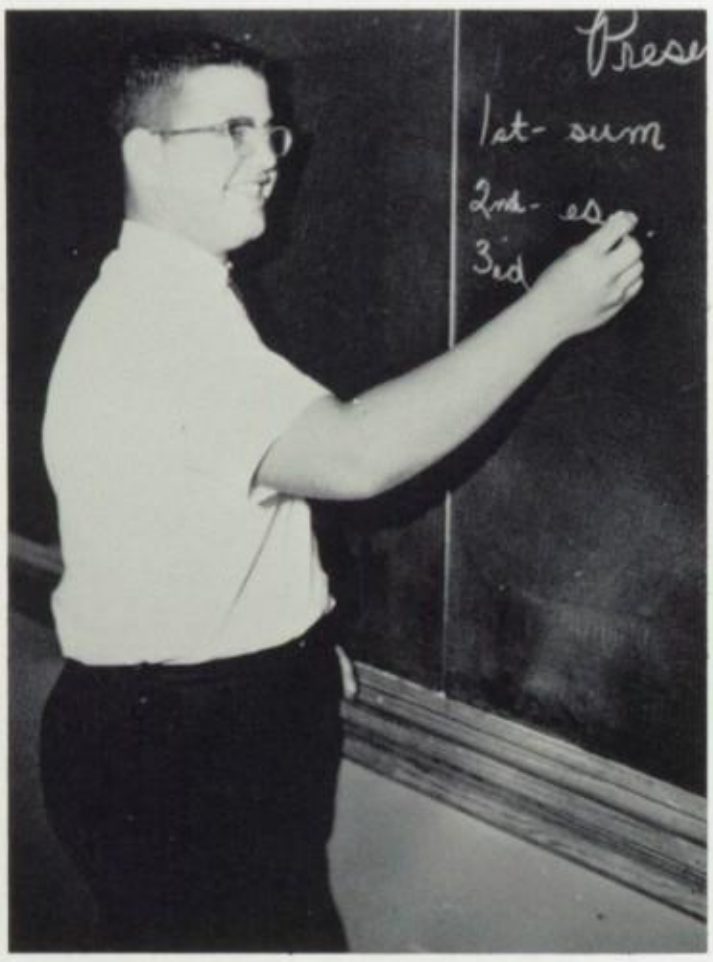
Wearing a Spanish shawl, Cheryl Altman watches Steve Maxfield and Sandra Breidenbaugh, who are enjoying a Spanish record. Mike Maxfield checks the vocabulary in his textbook.

Margaret McAdams teaches Latin I and II and English IX. She holds a B.S. in Education.

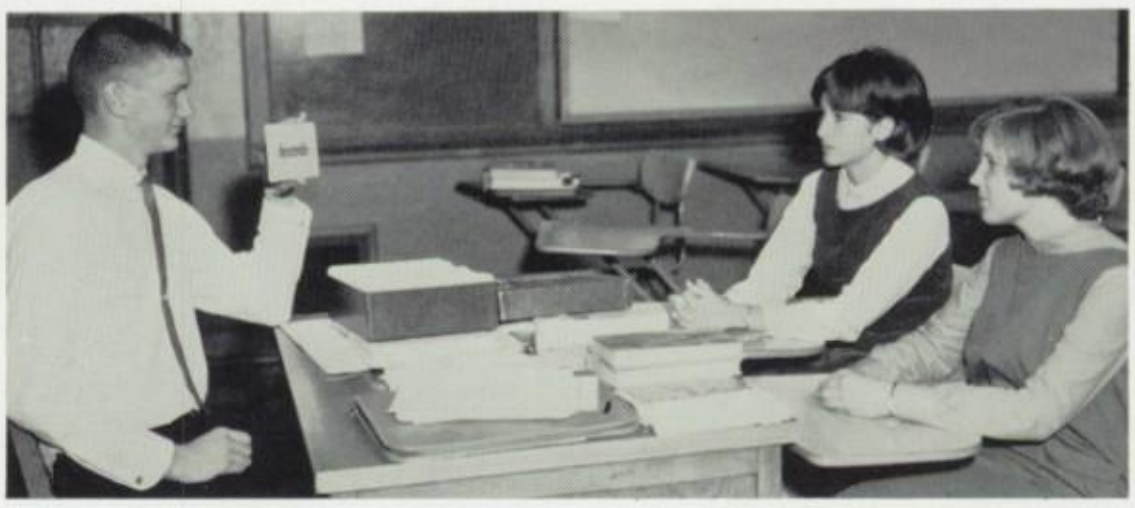
In her first year at Hicksville High School, Miss Joann Allison teaches Spanish I and English XI.

"¿Habla usted espanol?" (Do you speak Spanish?) "Si!" answer thirty-four Hicksville High School students after enrolling in the first year of the first modern language in the curriculum. Supplements to arouse student interest range from records and tape recordings in class to the extra-curricular Spanish Club.

Latin is the basis for all Romance languages, including Spanish. HHS offers two years of this all-important subject. First-year Latin is mainly concerned with vocabulary and grammar, while a large part of Latin II is spent in translating excerpts of Caesar's Gallic Wars. In both years, students explore Roman mythology and Roman civilization. Much about these two subjects is included in Latin notebooks, required for both Latin I and Latin II.



"Sum, es, est. . . ." Lee Peter demonstrates the conjugation of "is" in Latin I.



Alan Rohrs holds a flashcard to help Latin II students Ellen Longsworth and Connie Cottrell learn advanced Latin vocabulary drills.

Grammar and Literature Extend

Nancy Morris concentrates on her grammar book in business English, a practical course in English technicalities.

Besides continuing grammar studies, English IX introduces freshmen to literature of the world. Studies include book report, both written and oral, and short stories in literature.

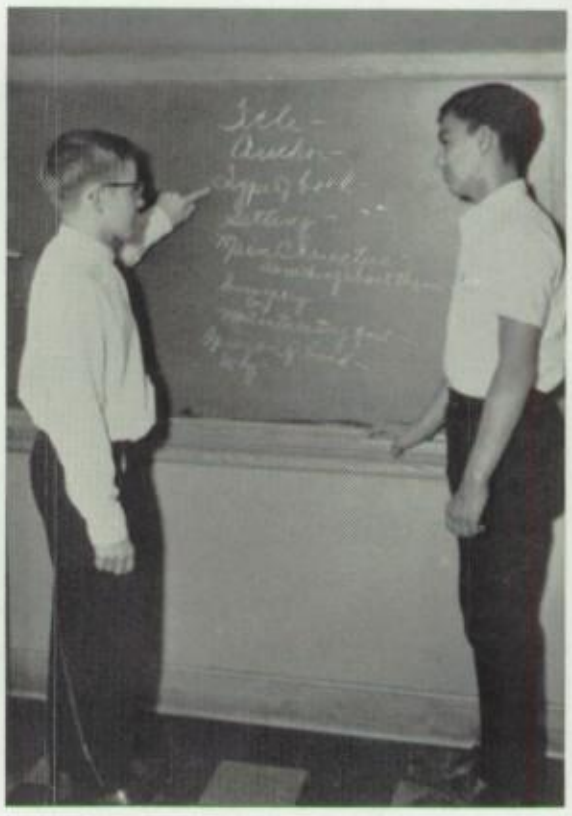
Introducing the sophomores to Shakespearean literature is one of the main objectives of English X. Also, they study poetry and short stories by American and British authors.

Emphasis on American literature comes in junior English. Through writing, the students learn meanings and interpretation of American way of life. In cooperation with the American History classes, the juniors submit research papers to the English department for form and grammatical construction.

English literature, on which much of American literature is based, is emphasized in English XII. Seniors electing to take this course also prepare a term paper on a British or American author who is of interest to them.

English XII consists mainly of English literature. Lana Richmond, Joe Adams, and Gary Hoff check the location of the stories in their literature books.

Freshmen Gerald Burdick and Keith Bungard are introduced to book report forms in English IX.



English Studies

Head librarian Clyde Heinonen, A.B., teaches American literature to sophomores.

The map of American Literature spotlights important locations in the United States for English XI. Joan Smitley checks her knowledge of literary geography as Jim Meyers and Paul Murphy look on.

Returning to H.H.S. after two years' absence, Iva M. Scheuring, B.S., M.A., conducts English XII, Business English, and Speech classes.

From high school to the business world, correct grammatical construction is necessary to the well-educated person. Business English prepares the student for work in the commercial fields by stressing grammar and form.

For practice in public speaking, especially in preparing debates, students are assigned various topics for speeches. Records, choral readings, and class reading of poetry and plays vary the subject matter of the speech course.

Sophomore English classes stimulate interest in books by contemporary American authors. Posters spotlight such books and attract the attention of Ed Vetter, Laura Murphy, and Betty Langham.

Through speech class come tomorrow's orators. Standing behind the podium, Steve Beck delivers a speech to his compatriots.

To personal problems class Terry Haver, Delphia Hollis, and Greg Bauer bring questions for discussion which call for reference to their text.

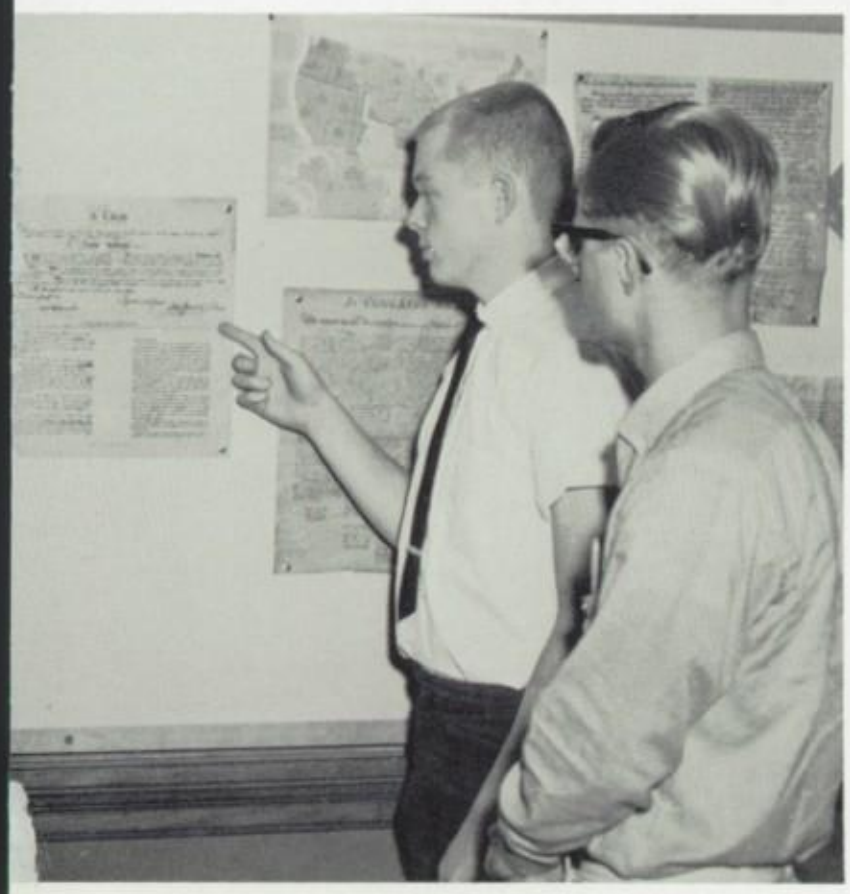
In Three Problems World to

Deep in concentration over their world history book are Gary Green, Mary Davis, and Loraine Bassett.

Required for graduation, senior government begins the study of how the state, nation, and statesmen of the United States act and function. The subject concludes high school education toward making graduates aware of the problems of their national government and of their responsibility to this government.

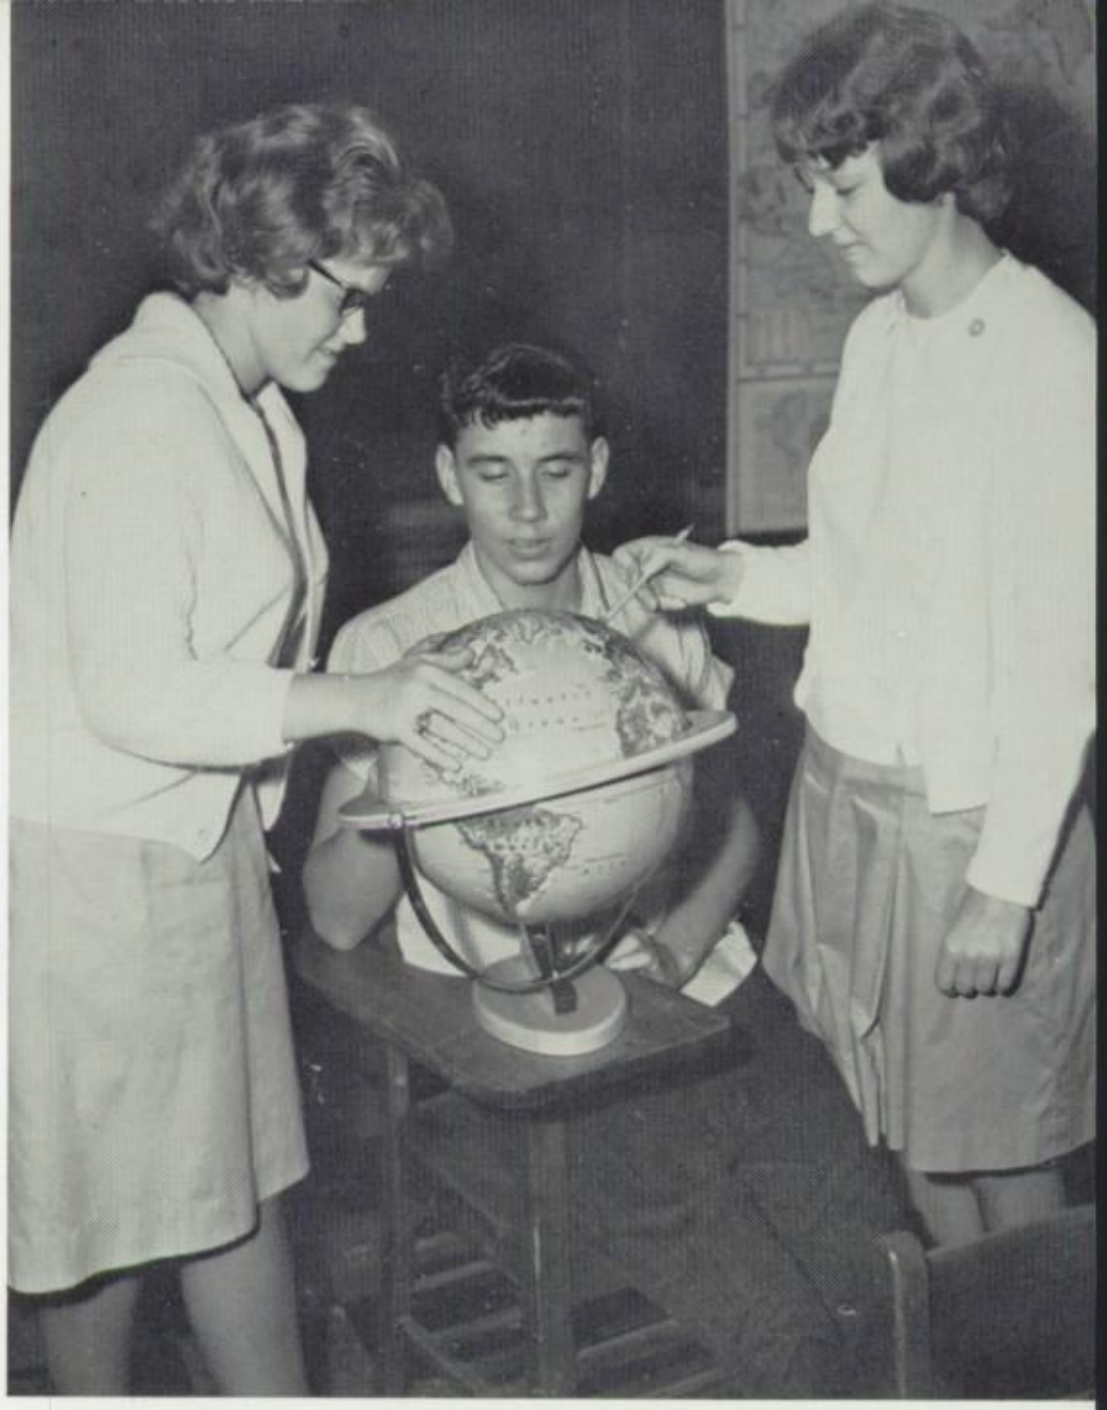
First-semester geography is, to seniors, a continuation of their topographical study of the United States and the world. Maps are of prime importance in this subject, and global study plays as large a part as does study of the text.

The second semester is continued with the study of personal problems. Here emphasis is placed on individual adjustment and acceptance of responsibility to one's self and to others.



Donna Smith, Vickie James, Ray Hofmeister and Mike Bell learn that the study of United States Government includes documents of early days.

Years, Narrow From Personal



On the globe, Lois Hanna, Dave Brickel, and Donna Bauer indicate the location for their day's discussion.

Aces' basketball coach, George R. Cherry, B.S., teaches Drivers' training, Geography, Personal Problems, and World History.

William Kent Jones, B.S., M.S., utilizes his sense of humor in his Government and American History classes.

"In Southern Indiana . . .," says William Jones to Julie Folk, Rob Miller, Nancy Betts, and Jim Massie during American History class.

Social studies at Hickville High School begin in the sophomore year with world history. This elective course includes instruction about world affairs from the first recorded history to today's history-in-the-making. Preparation in this class proves valuable in junior American History, and in senior government and geography.

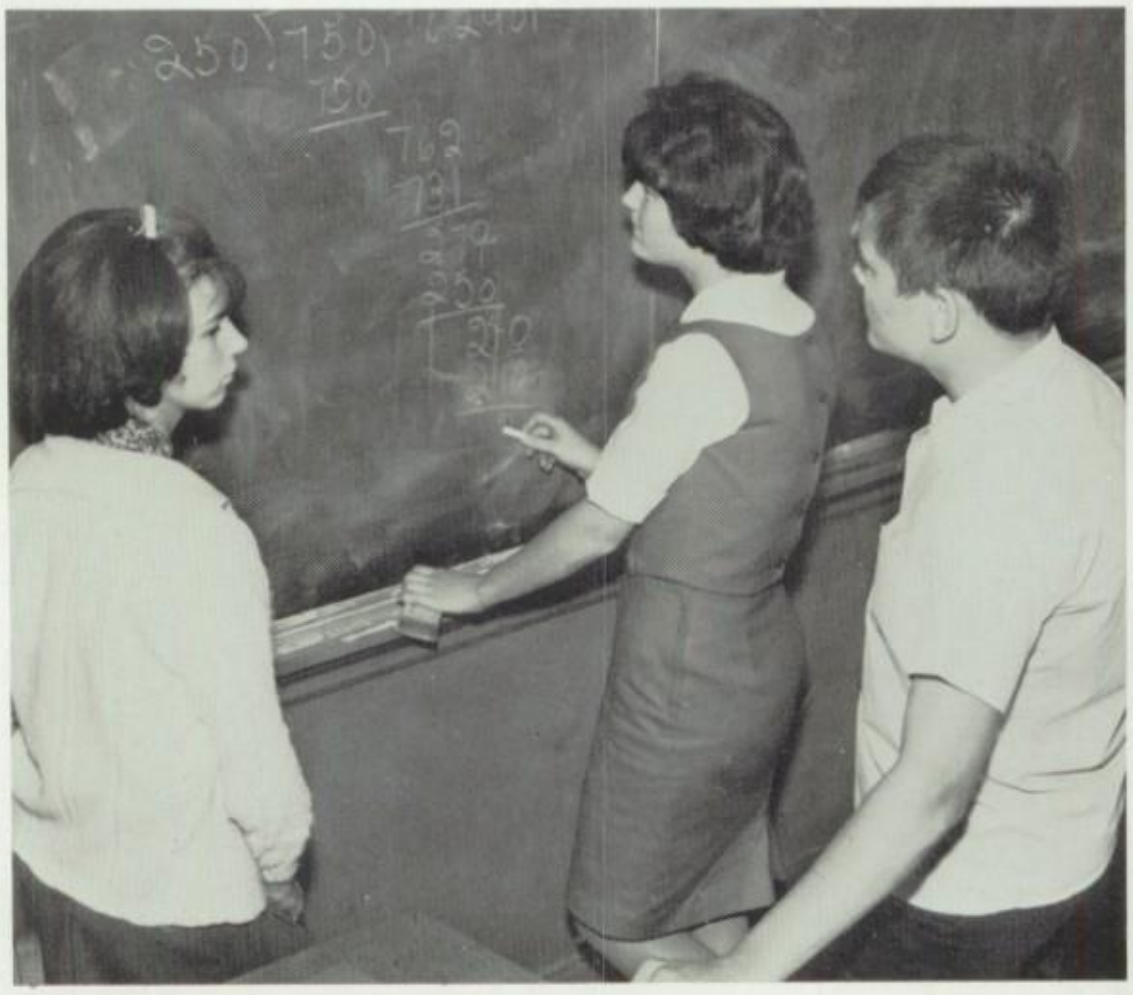
American History, a required subject for juniors, teaches the fundamentals on which the United States was founded. Comprehensively, the study begins with the motivations which led people to settle the Americas, and ends with the latest-day developments in history-making. Interpretations are given for history previous to 1900, while the results of more recent actions are not definite enough to assure positive deductions.

Math Courses Result in Principles of Logic

Five years and six courses of mathematics are offered at Hicksville. All freshmen choose between general math, which continues the fundamentals of arithmetic, or Algebra I, which leads to higher math courses. Algebra I introduces the students to equations and basic graphing.

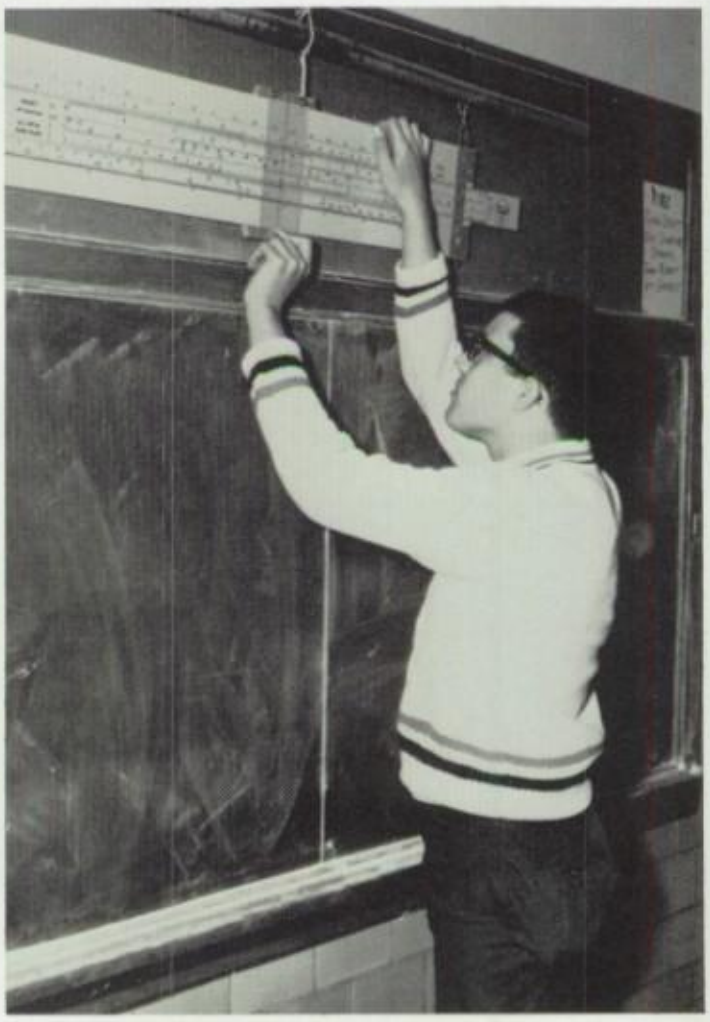
Second-year Algebra involves more complicated equations and functions; in addition, it gives a preview of more advanced mathematics.

From geometry, the students gain a practical knowledge of the forms and shapes in their environment. Math is then applied to these figures.



General math, as freshmen Sharon Schooley, Mary Brown, and Max Ish discover, is a partial continuation of their earlier studies in math.

Tables of trigonometric functions for solving problems in trigonometry and analytic geometry are vital aids to Mike Silvers, Doug Cook, and Walli May.

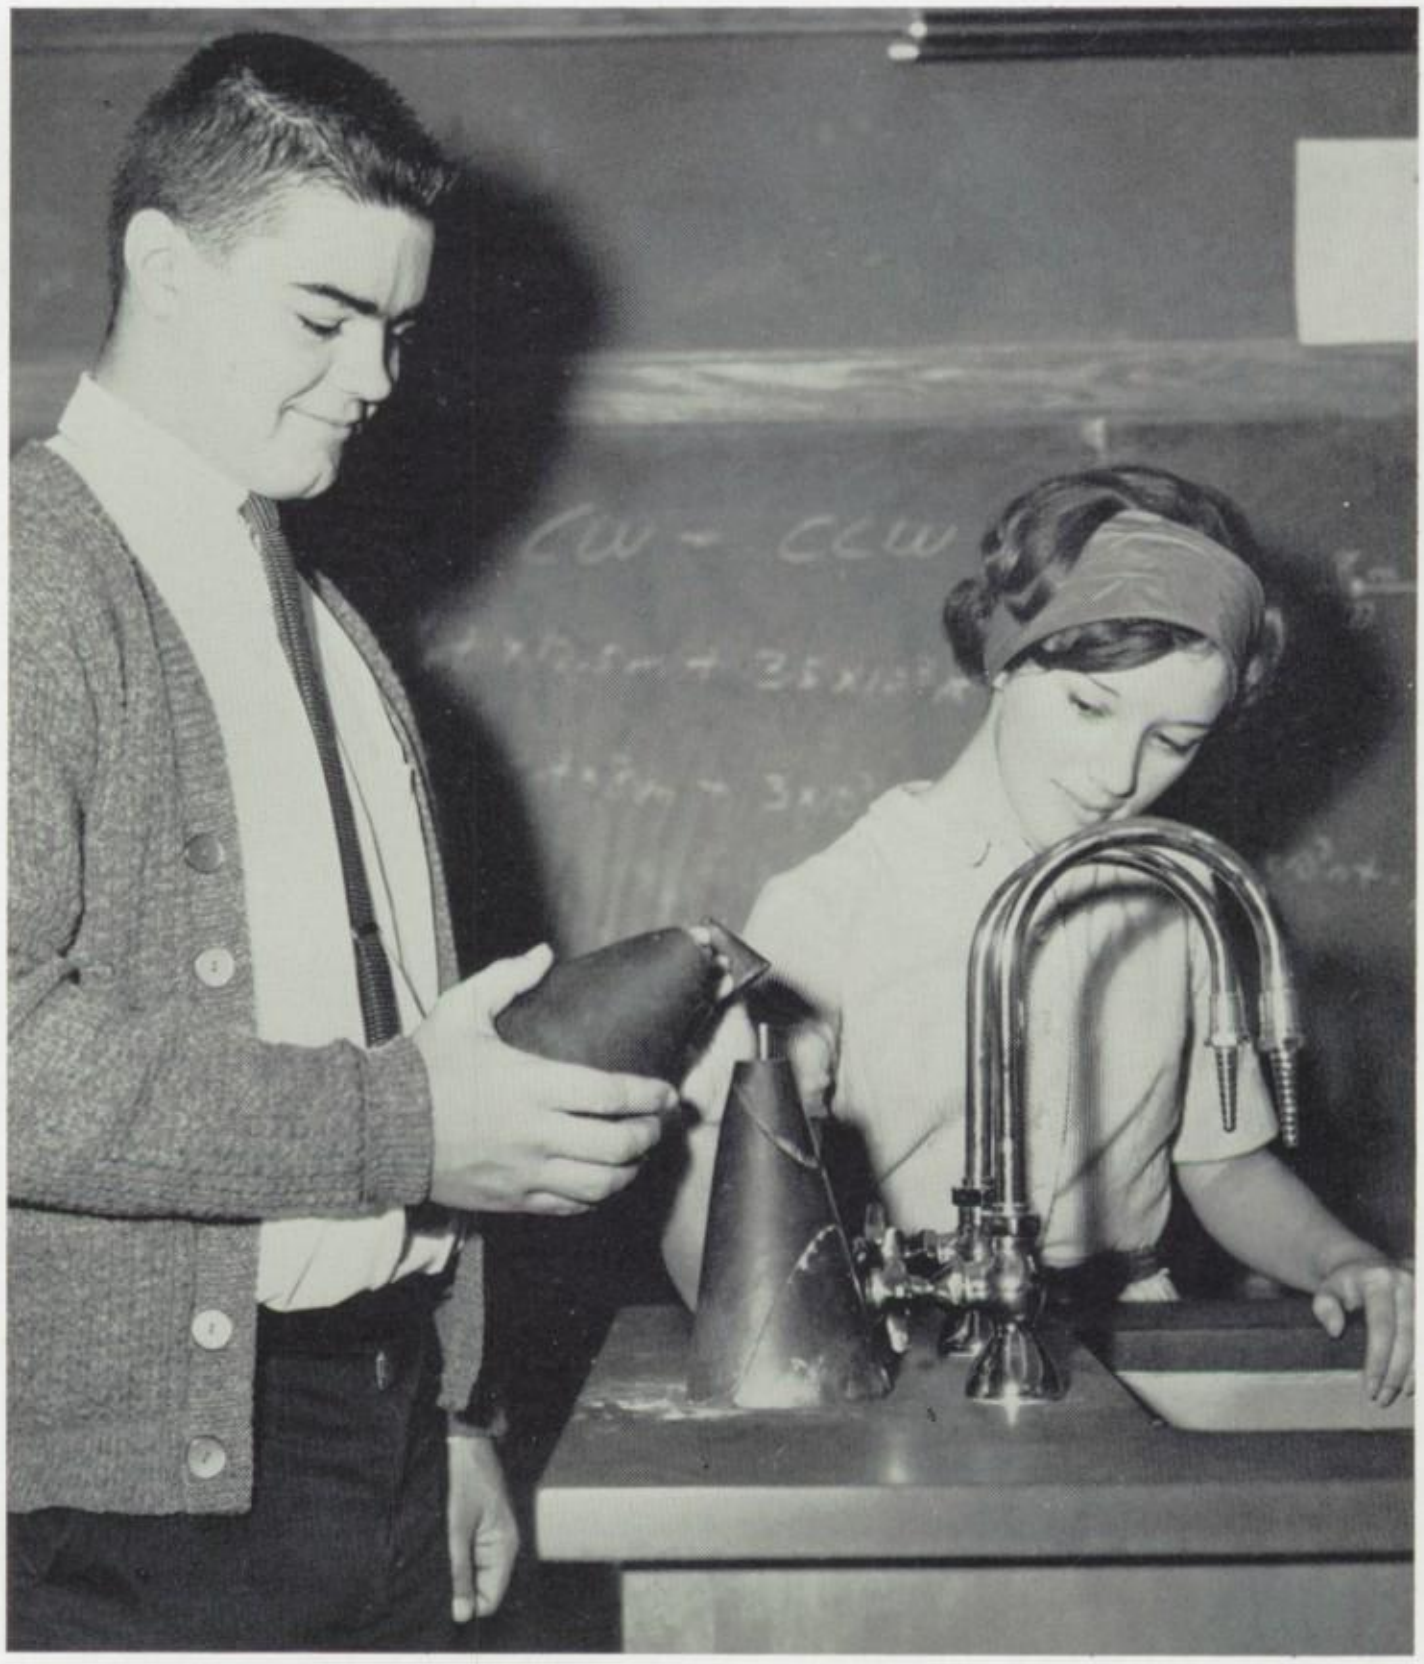


Learning to operate a slide rule in Algebra II, Jim Smith works at the large instrument used for class demonstrations.

Vital

Algebra I, Trigonometry, Analytic Geometry, and Bookkeeping fall under the scope of John Fast, B.S., M.S.

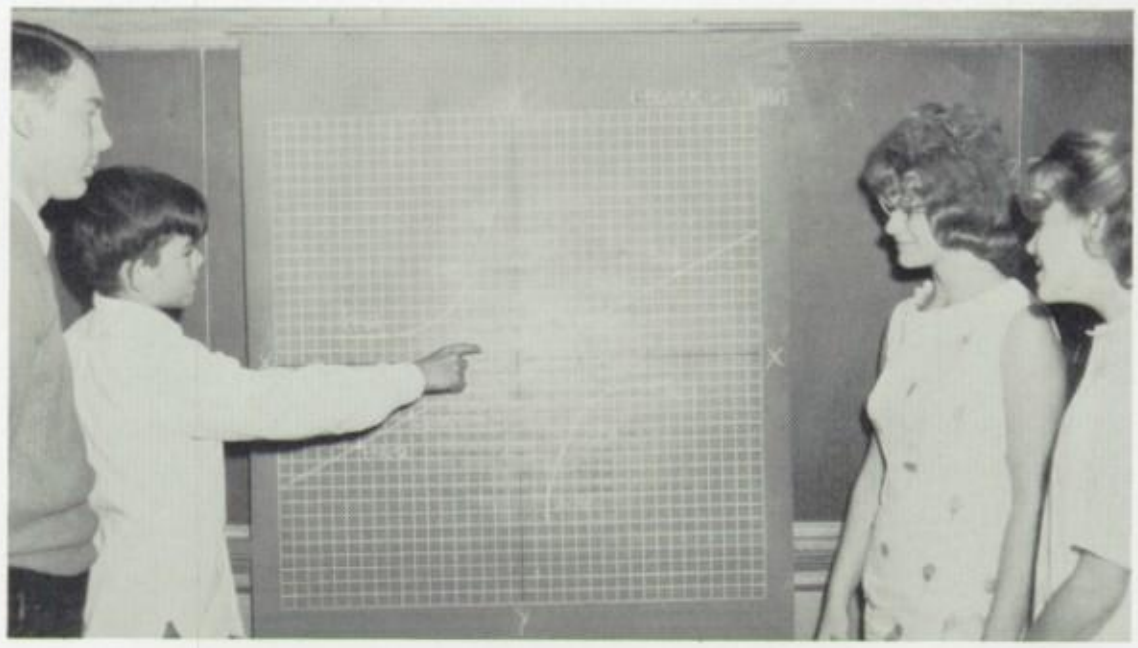
Keith Mendenhall, B.S., in his first year at the high school teaches General Math, General Business, Health, and Physical Education.



Craig Andrews and Deb Gecowetts discover that almost all circular geometric forms can be found in a cone.

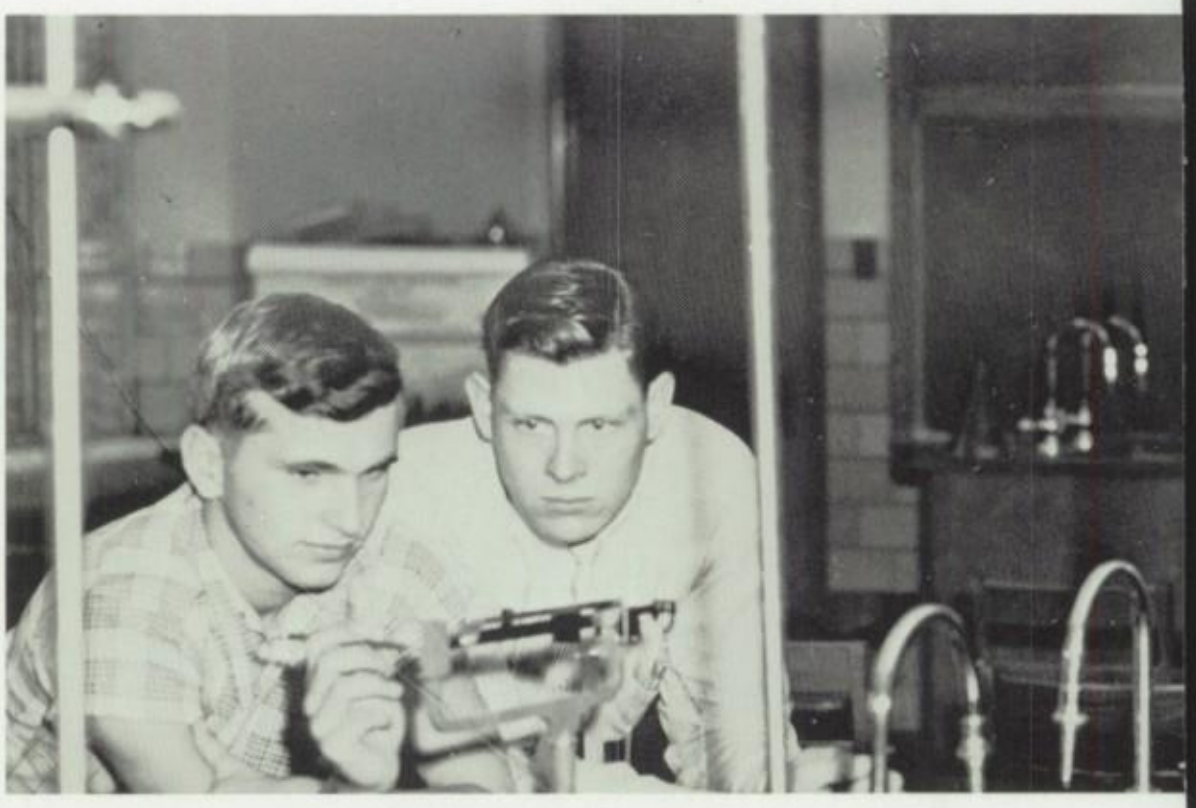
Advanced math for seniors consists of two courses. "Triangle measurement" is the translation for trigonometry. The semester course covers topics from right triangles to complex numbers and use of the slide rule trigonometrically.

Second semester advanced math is a course in analytic geometry, concerned with relating algebraic techniques to geometric studies.



Checking a graph on a rectangular Cartesian coordinate system, Jerry Minnig, Ronald McBride, Debbie Stuckey, and Lora Rohrs cope with a hyperbola in Algebra I.

Scientific Thinking Simplifies Modern Life



In the laboratory, Gary Wonderly and Mike Meidhardt take accurate weighings on a triple-beam balance. Tom Cromwell, Jerry Poper, and Mike Baker Highlight of general science is a conservation field trip. At one of the stops, Jerry Lytle explains the functions of the extension office of the Department of Agriculture in Defiance.

Biology students Mike Killian, Barb Kaduk, Dave Ballinger, and Pam Andrews make use of the Bioscope to project microscope slides.

Specializing in advanced science and math, Philip Wahl, B.A., B.S., teaches five subjects: Plane and Solid Geometry, Physics, Chemistry, Algebra II, and Senior Science.

General Science required for freshmen, and Biology are taught by Derrill Murphy, B.S., M.A.

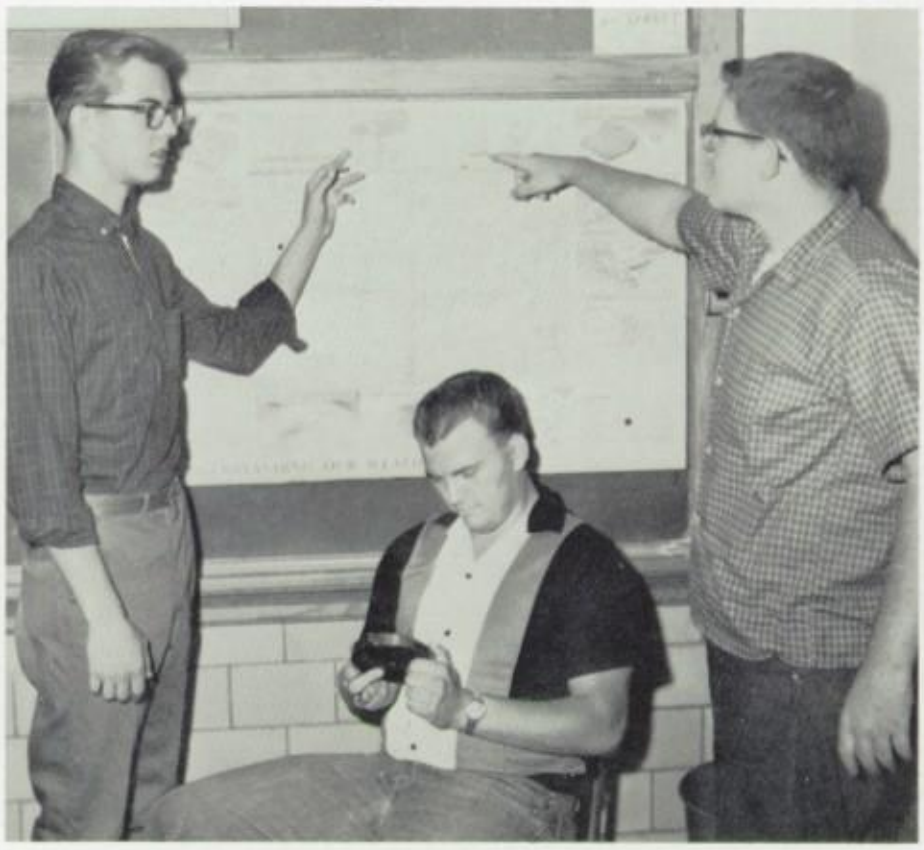
HHS offers four years of science, designed to give students the elements of scientific thinking and to prepare college-bound students.

General science, moved to a new room in the lower floor of the school, is required for all freshmen. Topics in both this course and the more advanced senior science touch basics of biology, chemistry, and physics.

Additions to the science department; used mainly by biology students, are a microprojector and an overhead projector for class-viewing microscope slides and diagrams. Highlighting biology studies was a missionary from Columbia who showed color slides of tropical flowers.

New laboratory facilities were incentives to chemistry and physics students at Hicksville. Besides experimenting, these students study chemical composition and physical properties of substances in the world.

make computations using data recorded through experimentation.



Studying weather in senior science, Monte Nichols points out a hurricane, and Tony Congleton studies a barometer, while Dave Kenner indicates a climatological graph.

Measuring liquids in graduated cylinders becomes routine procedure in chemistry lab; Steve Culler and Margaret Miller are determining the volume of the flask.

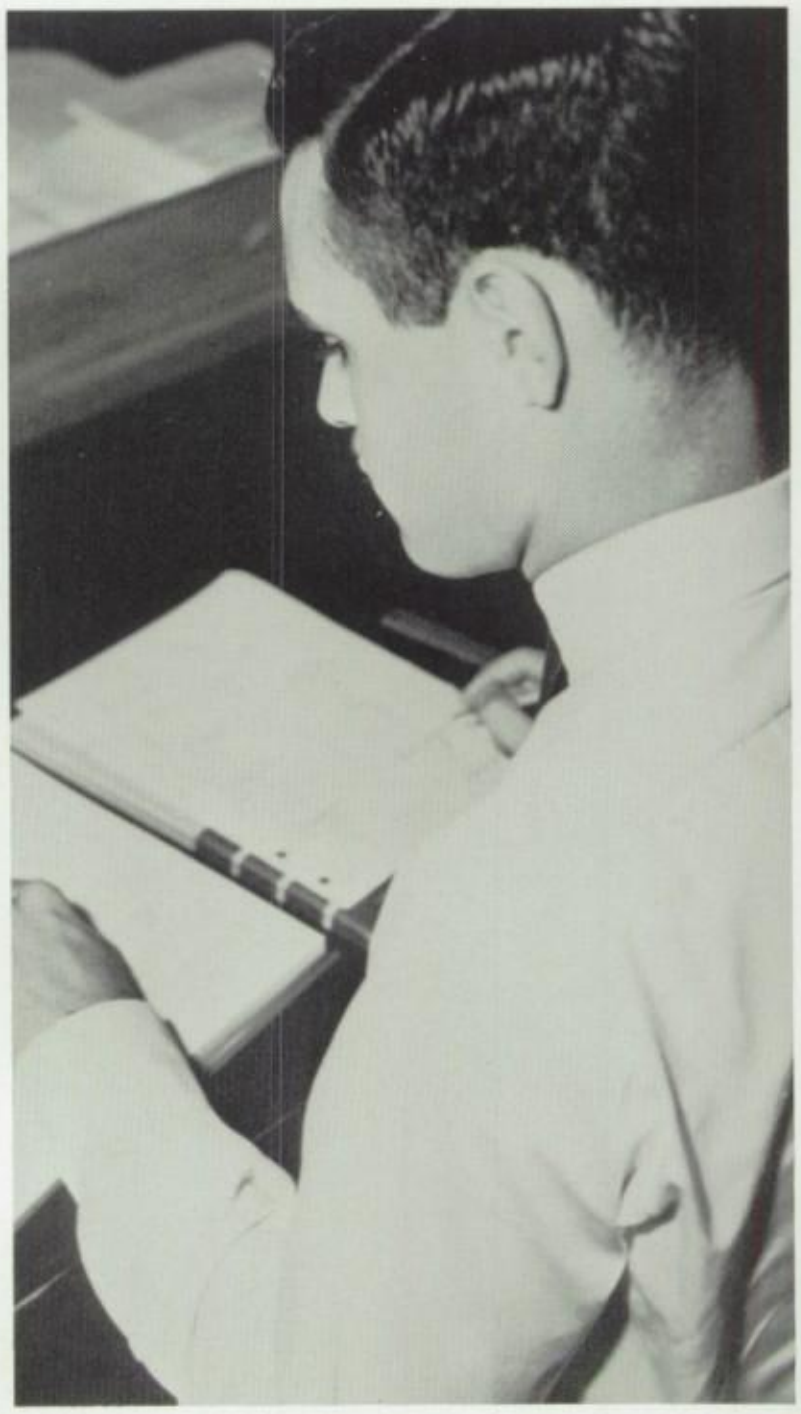
From Here, Business Worlds Call

At the head of the commercial department is Mrs. Mary Culler, B.S. She teaches Stenography I and II, Typing I and II, Office Practice, and Bookkeeping.

Freshmen Steve Slaughter and Louis Bailey study a bank's savings deposit sheet in general business.

Through practice in shorthand, Vickie Hart, Linda Haase, and Carolyn Neate become adept at note taking.

Typing I and II students Jackie Straley, John Hoovler, Linda Kinzer, and Sue Amaden are preparing their typing assignments.



Intent on his work, John Ewing copes with a problem in bookkeeping.

Hicksville High School offers business courses to students to prepare them for the business world.

Typing, shorthand, and office practice are musts for future secretaries. Other essential business courses are general business and bookkeeping. In some cases, satisfactory completion of these subjects makes possible a direct transition from high school to the working world following graduation. For other students, the commercial course of study is a definite benefit as they continue their education.

Through Home Economics Grow Tomorrow's Homemakers

Home Economics I, II, and IV are taught by Patricia Miller, B.S. Coordinated with Home Ec, she sponsors the Future Homemakers of America.

Working at a counter in the Home Ec kitchen, Lois Hanna puts the finishing touches to a flower arrangement. This is one of the many phases of Home Ec IV.

Joyce Hart, Donna Bauer, Linda Burley, Linda Howe, and Ellen Walter experiment with the fit of necklines during their study of fashions and sewing.

Homemakers, not "homewreckers," are the most important people in family life. Home Economics is designed to prepare girls for future homemaking careers, which include a wide variety of duties.

First-year students study the development of themselves—of their personalities and manners. Learning nutritional values supplements their study of food preparation. They study child care in relation to babysitting, and learn how to dress appropriately. Practical experience comes through two projects, a three-garment sewing project and a bedroom furnishing project.

Home Ec II deals with consumer buying and family relations. The girls study child care in nursery schools or kindergartens, while their cooking concerns complete dinners. Advanced sewing and furnishing a livingroom, imperative for a good homemaker, are the projects for this year.

Fourth-year Home Ec is open to all senior girls. Discussion topics range from marriage and family living to baby care. Of great concern to homemakers, are the advantages and disadvantages of buying and renting houses, which are discussed in detail, as is furnishing the entire home.

As an incentive for the students, a fashion show is held in which sewing projects are judged, displayed, and finally worn by the participants.

Shop Projects Invigorate and Enliven Industrial Arts Classes

For the second year, Duane F. Elliott conducts Industrial Arts classes for sophomores and juniors at Hicksville.

Learning to operate the metal lathe, one of the many machines in the shop, are Jesse Yoder, Frank Ross, Noel Hitzeman, and Bob Bowsher.

Industrial arts is offered to sophomores and juniors at HHS. For both years, one six weeks is devoted to drafting; the remaining time is spent on elective projects.

Sophomores, in double-period classes, construct projects in the areas of wood and metal, including footstools and pancake turners. In leatherworking, the students choose among billfolds, belts, and purses.

Also working in areas of wood and metal, juniors learn the operation of a metal lathe and the ornamental design of wrought iron. For civic improvement, as well as for experience, juniors mass-produced flag holders for the town parking meters. This project was sponsored by the merchants, the American Legion, and the Boy Scouts.

To John Phillips and Warren Hart, drafting is a vital part of the industrial arts program.

In the tool room, Loren Baxter and Gary Elliott select instruments to use in constructing their projects.

Through Health and Phys. Ed. Come Physical Fitness

Besides mornings at the junior high, Mrs. Rosemary McKeen spends her afternoons teaching girls' Physical Education and Health.

For freshmen, health classes meet twice a week. Under the guidance of Mrs. Rosemary McKeen and Mr. Keith Mendenhall, they learn principles of health which apply to daily life.

In physical education, students participate in various activities and sports. Boys' classes tumble, play volleyball, and climb rope. More mildly, girls' phys. ed. classes play softball, golf, and kick ball. Calisthenics are an important part of the boys' program, while the girls engage in less strenuous exercises for physical fitness.

Both groups spend a large portion of the year on basketball, practicing for G.A.A. and intramurals.

Will the ball go in? wonder Nancy Osmun, Pam Francies, Sandy Rohrs, Alice Meyer, and Linda Larson.

Up for the ball go Gary Miller, Tom Metz, and Keith Rohrs in physical education.

Intently bent over a health book are Pam Wonderly, Roy Hurni, Sherree Christman, Steve Neller, and Helen Handy.

In the HHS parking lot, David Rohrs and Richard Sholl take instructions from Mr. George Cherry.

"Experience Teaches" in Drivers' Ed.

Drivers' education is one of the most popular subjects at Hicksville High School. This semester course is offered both winter and summer; it teaches Ohio driving laws, safety rules, and basic auto mechanics. The major part of the course is practical driving experience. Through actual participation, students learn the skills necessary to obtain drivers' licenses.

Musical Prowess Develops in Sectionals

Individual practice sessions for small groups of band and chorus members are part of membership in these organizations. In these sectionals, the instructors work directly with small ensembles, developing tone quality and technical phases of the music. This leaves class periods free to develop expression in the unit group.

Conducting Hicksville's instrumental music is Peter R. Bottomley, B.S. Besides senior band, he directs junior high and sixth grade bands.

Teaching for her first year at Hicksville, Mary Sue Robinson holds a B.S. in education. Her vocal music classes include grades one through eight, plus senior high chorus.

Clarinet duo, Barb Kaduk and Jacki Cunningham, is an integral part of the HHS band. Together they prepare their part before coordination with the entire band.

Choral harmony in small groups, such as Eric Pierman, Virlynn Rex, and Ed Cleland, guides the students to better musicianship.

Due to These, Our School Functions

Joan Overmyer, Pauline Haver, Virginia Surque, and Jean Bergman prepare and serve the food in the elementary cafeteria.

Preparing for hungry high school students, Claudine Burlingame and Leona Hostetler place trays of food in the oven.

Elementary custodians Alvin Beardsley and Russel Meyers clean the cafeteria after lunch hour.

Pondering over menus . . . replacing broken or worn out items . . . driving school buses twice a day . . . these are a few of the functions of the behind-the-scenes staff of the Hicksville schools. This indispensable but rarely seen group of people is responsible for maintaining the building and for providing two major services for the students—lunch and transportation.

Bus drivers Ralph Smith, William Camp, Richard Miles, Kenneth Thiel, Ralph Morhart, and Dwight Burlingame are responsible for the regular transportation of rural students to the Hicksville schools.

Custodian Roy Bauer performs one of his functions of the summer months—varnishing the banisters of the high school.

The Day Begins . . .

As a morning ritual, Don Fogle and Terry Hart raise the United States Flag outside Hicksville High School.

A day at HHS begins with the raising of the flag. Don Fogle and Terry Hart perform this duty to provide the school with an aura of school pride and patriotism.

Thanks to the efficiency of the kitchen staff, students are provided with a delicious noon meal and a pleasant atmosphere in which to have lunch. Students who volunteer for this work set up tables, serve the food, and help with the clean-up.

Breaks for Lunch . . .

Students who help in the cafeteria, Don Fogle, Ed Vetter, Barry Finzer, Jon Rohrs, Terry Hart, Joe Adams, Amanda Mullet, Linda Blech, Helen Gump, and Sue Fogle, set up tables, prepare the facilities for serving milk, and help serve the food.

and Ends.

Through the efforts of the cafeteria help, lunch hour runs smoothly, cheerfully, and efficiently. After this break for lunch, students are able to return to their afternoon studies refreshed and with renewed energy.

The dismissal bell rings, and the school is left to the custodian. Aiding Mr. Bauer, Loren Baxter and Bruce Wann sweep floors and empty waste baskets. These two are, in a large part, responsible for the cleaning of HHS.

Performing faithfully, Loren Baxter and Bruce Wann work after school hours, preparing for the coming day.

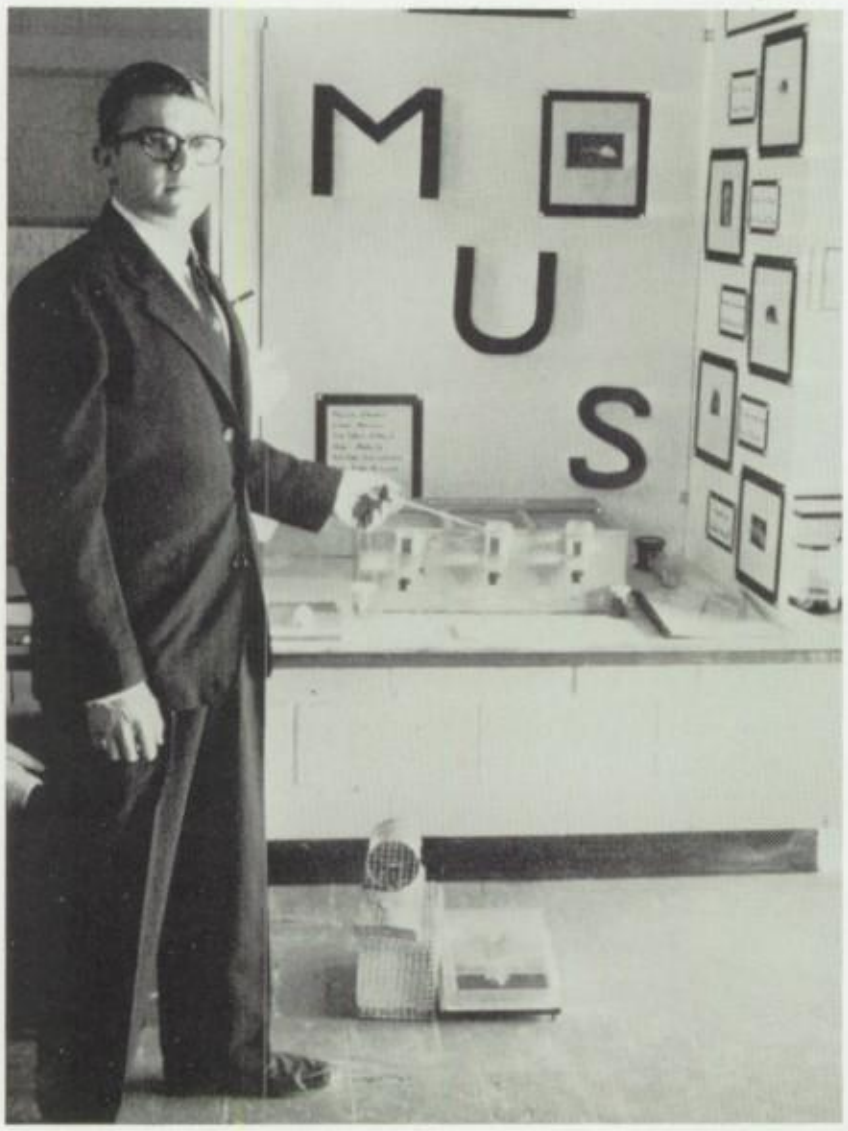
Honors

Science Students Win Honors



Dave Ballinger, a sophomore biology student, was the only entrant in the Hicksville Science Fair who received Superior ratings at local, District, and State Science Fairs. His project dealt with the wild mouse of the area.

Several science, biology, chemistry, and physics students' experimenting and organizing ability was displayed at the Annual Science Fair.

Judges from the surrounding area rated the projects according to originality, knowledge achieved, scientific method, and presentation.

"Caesarean Section on Tropical Livebearers" won a Superior rating locally and an Excellent rating at District for its originator, Karl May.

Freshman science student, Cheryl Altman, received a Superior rating at Hicksville, an Excellent rating at District, and a medal at the Archbold Science Fair for her project, "The Relationship Between the Earth and Moon Phases."

Co-workers Alan Rohrs and Mike Killian's study on "Sled Acceleration" won a Superior rating at H.H.S., an Excellent rating at District, and the NASA award at Archbold.

Students Receive Awards

Each year, Senior and Awards Assembly is held in honor of the graduating Seniors and in recognition of students for their outstanding achievements.

By vote of the entire band, Jerry was granted the John Philip Sousa Award by the band director, Mr. Peter Bottomley. Each year, this award is given to the band member who has demonstrated outstanding musical ability, and is presented to him by the band director.

Mr. Bottomley presents Jerry Poper with the John Philip Sousa Award.

Home economics teacher, Mrs. Pat Miller, grants Gail McFeters, Virlynn Rex, Ellen Walters, Loraine Bassett, Michelle Baker, and Sharon Wann awards in homemaking.

Virlynn Rex, who received the highest score on the "Betty Crocker's Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow" test, which was taken by all Senior girls, was awarded the title, "Miss Homemaker of Tomorrow" in Hicksville High School.

In the state, Virlynn ranked among the top ten, qualifying her for one of the top two positions in the state. After filling out and submitting a questionnaire, Virlynn was notified that she had placed second in the state, and would receive a $500 scholarship to the school of her choice.

Commercial teacher, Mrs. Mary Culler, awarded Linda Haase, Alice Meyer, Donna Monroe, Jacki Cunningham, Sandra Bergman, Alice May, Patty Thompson, and Elaine Otis with proficiency certificates as a result of their high scores on the Business Entrance Tests, which were based on typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand skills, and general business practice.

Awards Are Given in Journalism and Math and Science

Mrs. Margaret McAdams presents Co-Editors Jim Meyer and Sandra Breidenbaugh pins in recognition of their positions on the Spoondrift.

Our high school newspaper, the Spoondrift, this year boasted two co-editors, Jim Meyer and Sandra Breidenbaugh. On Senior and Awards Day, Mrs. Margaret McAdams, Spoondrift Advisor, presented them with pins in recognition of their positions. Donna Monroe and Margaret Miller also received pins in recognition of the work they put into publishing the Spoondrift.

Walli May, the 1965 Hixonian Editor, was presented her Quill and Scroll pin, which identifies her as a member of the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, by Mrs. Mary Culler, Hixonian Advisor.

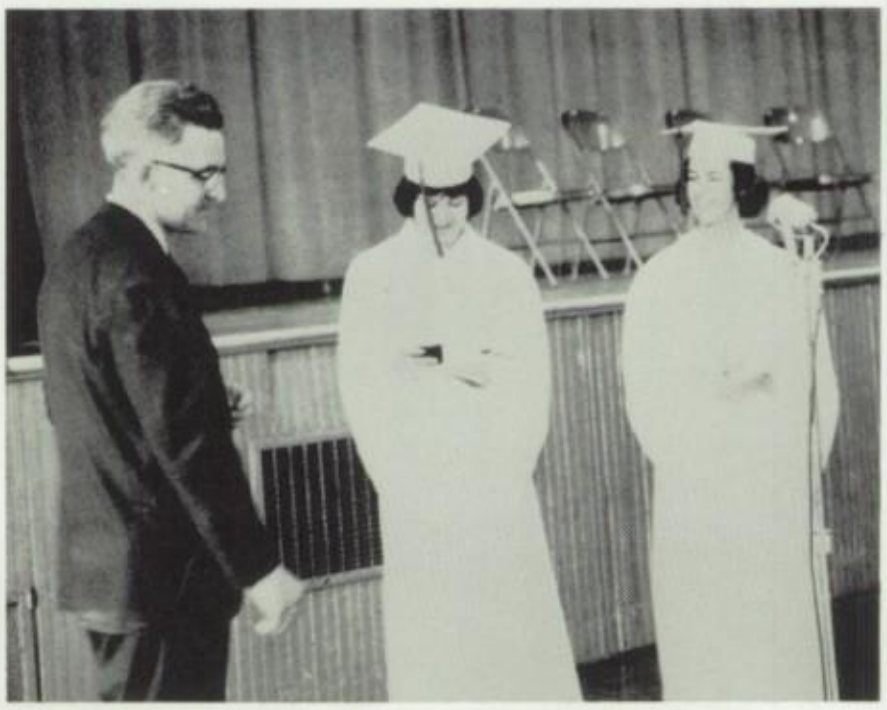
Awards of recognition were given to Donna Monroe and Margaret Miller.

Mrs. Culler gives Walli May her Quill and Scroll pin.



Walli May received the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award, and Judi Peter received the Rensselaer Medal for outstanding achievement in math and science. These awards, which were presented by Mr. Murphy, are offered in accordance with the modern emphasis on math and science in high schools today.

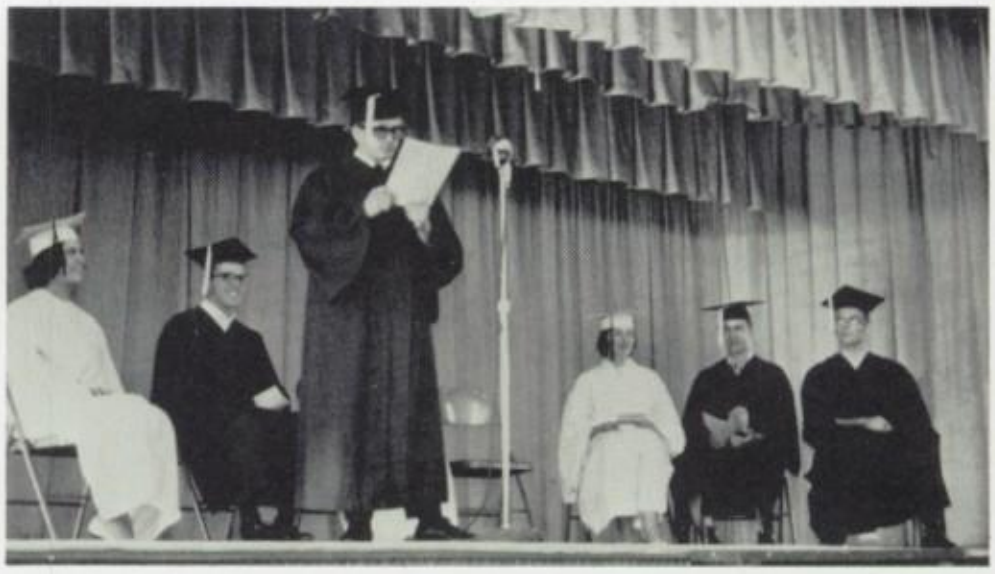
Seniors Play Big Part in Awards Program

Seniors and Awards Day represents the last school participation of the seniors. They are given final recognition by the school before graduation, and are presented with all honors they have achieved during the past year.

Mr. Jones presents to Salutatorian Walli May and Valedictorian Judi Peter the book I Dare You, a gift from the Danforth Foundation.

Congratulations are given by Mr. Ringer to seniors Keith Stuckey, Walli May, Tom Cromwell, Jane Pepple, Jacki Cunningham, Alice Meyer, Judi Peter, and Diana Cook for maintaining an A minus or above average during four years of high school.

Senior Class President, Keith Stuckey, presents to Junior Class President Paul Murphy, the Hicksville High School shield, listing the school's ideals to be carried out by the next senior class.



John Hoovler reads the Class Prophecy as Judi Peter, Valedictorian, Ron Laux, Senior Class Vice-President, Walli May, Salutatorian, Virlynn Rex, who read the Class History, Gene Edwards, who sang "Three Grenadiers," and Keith Stuckey, Senior Class President anticipate the possible future.

Representatives Chosen

Competing Scholars. BOTTOM ROW: Ron Burdick, Jim Meyer, Ricky Straley, Dennis Bauer, Dave Cook, Jim Timbrook, Mike Killian, Tom Metz. SECOND ROW: Margaret Miller, Linda Monroe, Pam Francies, Virlynn Rex, Colleen Hurni, Pam Wonderly, Jane Pepple, Ann Burdick, Beth Ewing, Judi Peter, Ellen Longsworth, Barb Kaduk, Sandra Breidenbaugh. TOP ROW: Walli May, Ellen Walter, Pete Steiner, Jim Massie, Craig Andrews, Mike Baker, Paul Kerr, Keith Stuckey, Dave Schlosser, Alan Rohrs, Gary Miller, Alice Meyer, Joan Smitley.

Several students compete for a position on the Scholarship Team by taking the Preliminary District State Scholarship Test in the subject of their choice. The two highest scoring students in each of the various subjects win the honor of representing Hicksville in the Final District State Scholarship Tests at Defiance College.

Girls' State delegates are chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary and delegates to Boys' State are chosen by both the American Legion and the Rotary Club.

Selection is based on scholastic abilities, civic studies, extracurricular activities, leadership, and personality.

At Girls' and Boys' States, the delegates practice government procedure.

Delegates to Girls' State this year are Sandra Breidenbaugh and Margaret Miller, and delegates to Boys' State are Jon Rohrs, Craig Andrews, and Paul Kerr.

Test Scores Rank High

Letters of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Program were awarded to Virlynn Rex, Walli May, and Keith Stuckey for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test in 1964.

One of the purposes of the National Merit Test is to identify able and promising students throughout the country and to encourage them to continue their education. This test was taken in the spring of 1964 by 807,000 students and was administered in 17,000 participating high schools. On the basis of their test scores, these students are three of 38,000 students who received Letters of Commendation. These students, together with the 14,000 students who are Finalists and receive Certificates of Merit, constitute about two percent of all secondary school seniors.

All eighth grade students in Hicksville take the Eighth Grade State Test which covers all subjects the students have taken. This test is designed to compare Hicksville's students with other eighth grade students from all parts of Ohio.

Receiving congratulations from Mr. Ringer are Virlynn Rex, Walli May, and Keith Stuckey, who reaped honors in the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test.

Seniors Honored

Each six-weeks period ends with the issuance of the honor roll. With a grade of B equal to 3.0, anyone with a 3.2 average or above is included on the honor roll. Therefore, sixteen seniors of the class of 1965 have maintained 3.2 or above averages during four years of high school.

In our school records system, where 12.0 stands for A+, 11.0 for A, etc., averages between 8.53 and 8.66 equal 3.2, from 8.67-9.06=3.25, 9.07-9.32=3.4, 9.33-9.59=3.5, 9.60-9.99=3.6, 10.00-10.12=3.75, 10.13-10.65-3.8, 10.66-10.99=4.0, and 11.00 or above indicates a straight A or above average.

To become a probationary member of the National Honor Society, a student must prove himself outstanding in character, service, leadership, and scholarship.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors with minimum grade averages of 3.5 are eligible for membership in the Society. Members are selected by the faculty and tapped by permanent senior members at the Induction Ceremony.

To promote scholarship in Hicksville High School is the main purpose of the National Honor Society.

Officers of the club are Keith Stuckey, President; Tom Cromwell, Vice President; Judy Minnig, Secretary; and Alice May, Treasurer. The advisor is Mrs. Iva Scheuring.

Alice Meyer, Judy Minnig, Carolyn Neate, Jane Pepple, Alice May, Jacki Cunningham, Margaret Miller, Keith Stuckey, Jim Meyer, Craig Andrews, Jon Rohrs, Elaine Otis, Tom Cromwell, Ray Hofmeister, Judi Peter, and Paul Kerr stand at the flaming torch of knowledge.

Valedictorian and Salutatorian Hit 11.00 Mark

Miss Judi Peter earned the title of Valedictorian for the Class of 1965 by achieving a grade average of 11.12, with 11.00 being given for an A, and 12.00 for A+.

Judi has been very active in extra-curricular activities, having been a reserve and varsity cheerleader, a member of the National Honor Society, artist for the school paper, member of the Hixonian staff, leading lady in the junior and senior class plays, member of the Future Business Leaders of America, active participant in Girls' Athletic Association, winner of the high school spelling contest, member of the band, delegate to Girls' State, member of the scholarship team, and queen for the Homecoming in her senior year.

Miss Walli May is Salutatorian of the Class of 1965. Walli has earned a point average of 11.00, which is a straight A average.

Walli is editor of the 1965 Hixonian, and was editor of the school paper her junior year. She is a member of the National Honor Society, was honored by the Defiance County Engineering Society for her high score on a math and science test, has been a member of the scholarship team, and is a member of the band and the Girls' Athletic Association. She was secretary-treasurer of the class in her junior year.

Hicksville High School's Library is undergoing considerable renovation under the direction of Mr. Heinonen, the new advisor. Nearly three hundred volumes have been purchased to replace worn books and add to the library's resources.

Extensive use of the library due to many research assignments gave student librarians a greater opportunity to assist their fellow students.

Twenty years ago the student council was formed to present student ideas concerning improvement of school policies, activities, and education. Each class elects one boy and one girl; these representatives, who meet twice monthly, then elect officers and discuss matters brought to their attention by members, faculty, and students.

This year's council has planned school assemblies, enacted student driving regulations, sponsored the National Honor Society, and discussed school policies with the School Board.

Cheering enthusiastically, the Yell Club promoted great school spirit at ball games. Members, predominately freshmen and sophomores, who had paid dues received an Aces button and sat in a reserved section at home games. In addition to meeting weekly to practice yells, they earned money by selling Aces buttons to high school and junior high students.

After having earned two varsity letters in sports, an athlete is qualified for membership in the Varsity Club. Members, who are usually juniors and seniors, are the only boys who may buy the Varsity jackets. Three meetings were held; under the supervision of sponsor, George Cherry. At the final meeting officers were elected for next year.

Highlighting the year was the 1965 State Convention which nine of the members attended. The Dayton Biltmore Hotel was the scene of this convention held on February 11-13. As the result of an effective campaign led by Nancy Betts, Campaign Manager, Donna Monroe was elected State Reporter. Hicksville placed second in the scrapbook contest; also, Alice Meyer participated in the Miss FBLA contest. Taking part in the spelling contest were Donna Monroe, Julie Folk, and Alice Meyer. The Hicksville Chapter displayed an exhibit portraying the Convention's theme: "Individuality —To Each His Own".

Mr. Troy Stambaugh of Stambaugh Jewelers in Defiance was the guest speaker at the April meeting which was open to all students interested in any phase of business. Mr. Gaylord Gerig, guidance counselor, spoke on business careers at one meeting. At another, a panel of graduates spoke on their positions as secretaries. FBLA members prepared the program booklets for the flower club and addressed envelopes for the Crippled Children's Society. They held a car wash and a Christmas candy and cookie sale.

At the May meeting, the members and their mothers attended the pot-luck supper after which the new officers were formally installed and the seniors honored.

Preparing girls for their future homes is the function of the Future Homemakers of America club which consists of forty-six girls under the direction of Mrs. Miller.

A get-acquainted party and wiener roast in the fall began a busy year for the FHA girls. The club sponsored a movie on teen-age marriage entitled "Worth Waiting For". Miss Emma Baker, owner of the Vanity Fair Beauty Shop, gave a demonstration on make-up. During the Christmas season the girls went caroling and held a party with an exchange of gifts.

Guest night was the spring style show given by Mrs. Ruth Cook, owner of the Lady Byrd Shop. In April degrees were granted to several girls for growth in character and their service to the community and school.

As a service to the school, the FHA served several banquets. For their community project, the girls made a door-to-door campaign to solicit funds for the March of Dimes.

Closing the year's activities, the club held a banquet honoring the seniors. Following the banquet the new officers were installed.

Supplementing Spanish, a new course at Hicksville High School this year, is the Spanish Club which was formed under the direction of Miss Allison.

Entertaining and visiting the Butler High School's Spanish Club was one of the new club's first projects. Christmas was celebrated with a Pinata Party and gift exchange. A high point of the year was the presentation of a play in Spanish for the public. The club closed the year's activities with a Spanish supper.

Current News Discussed

To learn more about world events—past and present—is the purpose of the History Club which meets twice a month.

Organized in 1963, the Fine Arts Club furthers appreciation of the finer arts. Of added interest was the purchase of smart red and black FAC pins by some of the members.

This year the club sponsored the bookstore, the one-act plays, and a movie, "An American in Paris," to earn money for the year's activities.

Although the club traveled to Fort Wayne to see the musical, "Oliver!,", and Shakespeare's tragedy, "Othello," and to Toledo to see "Unsinkable Molly Brown," it reserved most of its funds for its greatest and last project, a three-day trip to Detroit after graduation. Here members and sponsors combined exciting fun with cultural experience.

Preparing copy sheets and meeting deadlines occupied all free time (and more) of the Hixonian staff of 1965. Marking the Fiftieth Anniversary of continuous publication of the Hixonian, the staff added twenty-four pages to make this an impressive issue.

With pictures and copy, the staff gave special emphasis to the Class of 1916 which edited the first Hixonian. The circulation staff compiled and completed the Alumni Directory, an annal of the graduates of H.H.S.

To learn the latest trends in journalism, several members of the staff attended publications workshops at Ohio University and Bowling Green State University.

Almost as an anticlimax, the staff met the final deadline, sending a re-run of the 1964-1965 Hicksville school year to press.

G.A.A. Has Successful Season

Girls' Athletic Association has widened its field of sports to include golf and bowling in addition to basketball and volleyball.

Ending the basketball season with a successful 4-2 record, the girls began volleyball. They took part in a volleyball tournament in May.

Consisting of over sixty girls, the G.A.A. promotes sportsmanship, athletic ability, and friendship.

Debra Gecowetts and Ann Burdick prepare for the G.A.A. Saturday morning bowling games.

Tomorrow – They Teach

Reorganization of the Future Teachers of America Club took place under the guidance of Miss Allison, the new advisor. A charter was obtained so that the local club is now a member of the national association.

F.T.A. members furnished refreshments at the Senior Orientation Night when Mr. Russell Cayton, Bowling Green representative, was the guest. Several members attended the Future Teachers Conference at the Northwest Ohio Education Association meeting in Toledo in October. Each grade level was responsible for providing the program at one of the meetings during the year.

Pep Band Sets Pace

In addition to and supplementing the cheerleaders and the cheering bloc, the pep band enlivened the Aces' spirit at basketball games. Besides rendering the Star Spangled Banner between the reserve and varsity games, such novelty arrangements as Racket Squad and Dixie Thunder were presented by the band, letting the crowd participate in this manner of cheering the Aces on.

Pom Poms Enhance Band

Pom pom girls were initiated this year as an accent to the H.H.S. marching band. These five girls, with one alternate, performed with the band at parades at home and away. Complimentary remarks were given at judgings. At the county fair in the summer they were featured with the twirlers. During football season they performed at half-time, giving a few special routines at one game.

Quartet Performs as Band Watches

Nancy Betts who has been a twirler for nine years became head majorette this year.

Attracting the attention of the Hicksville fans during the half-time shows at football games, the majorettes in new uniforms, featured routines with the band.

Previous to the football season, the four majorettes attended Smith-Walbridge Camp in Syracuse, Indiana, to learn special twirling and dancing routines.

Twirlers. Sue Kinzer, Judy Minnig, and Debbie Andrews.

Band Marches

After finishing a hot, dusty summer of fairs, parades, and special appearances including the annual show at the Defiance County Fair, the Marching Band opened its fall season with a series of show drills at the football games. A combined show with the elementary band and a show featuring the twirlers closed the football season.

For the first time in many years, the band was judged in the upper three places at every parade they attended.

"Purely experimental" is the term given by Director Bottomley of the Music Department's newest group, the Dance Band. Although no public appearances were made this year, the members had the experience of reading music which is arranged and played entirely different from Concert Band music.

Chorus Year

Senior High Chorus presented the annual Christmas Concert for their first production under the direction of Miss Mary Sue Robinson.

Many of the members participated in the Solo and Ensemble Contest. The entire chorus sang at the district contest at Bowling Green.

Along with the band, the chorus served three banquets throughout the year. The serving of these banquets, sponsored by the Music Boosters, helped pay for the new risers purchased for chorus and band use.

Hicksville High Chorus's major production for the year was Meredith Wilson's hit, "Music Man," which was presented on April 30 and May 1, as well as for two open dress rehearsals.

Singing in their second and last year together, these four senior boys, "The Pitchpipes." have made many and varied public appearances for organizations from V.F.W. to Garden Club for occasions from Cancer Drives to Christmas parties. Their school performances included Senior and Junior Plays, Coronation, and Chorus Solo and Ensemble Contest where they received a II rating in Class A competition.

Guitars were added to the Dee-Q's as they presented varied programs which included folk songs.

Having entertained at numerous places around the community—the Football Banquet, various churches, Rotary, Grange, Acme Club, Teacher's Banquet, and Defiance's 4-H record hop, they also had the honor to record for Bob Siever's WOWO Saturday radio program.

Crowns and Tributes Bestowed on Royalty and Court

By vote of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, members of the senior class most suited to the various titles were bestowed with the honor of becoming the 1965 Coronation Court.

Crown bearers were nominated and voted on by the senior class. The duty of the boy and girl elected is to carry the crowns for the Coronation King and Queen and the banners indicating the titles of the members of the Coronation Court.

Crown Master and Crown Mistress, who are elected in the same manner, gave a brief description of the qualifications of each member of the Court, and crowned the King and Queen of the 1965 Coronation.

"Spectacular '65" Is Seniors' Last Big Production

Steve Beck—"And now, ladies and gentlemen . . ."

Coronation, on the evening of March 26, 1965, marked the last time before graduation that the entire Senior Class of 1965 was gathered on the stage of H.H.S. The Class' final stage production—"Spectacular '65"—was a television special, presenting highlights from many of today's most popular television programs.

"Spectacular '65" sported not one, but two dashing Masters of Ceremonies, Steve Beck and Ed Lyons, who put the performers through their paces and kept the program running smoothly.

Beginning the performance with the presentation of the Seniors' adaptation of the NBC peacock, girls gliding on gossamer wings of various pastels opened the Seniors' color production with a grand flourish of color and glamour.

". . . on with the show!"—Ed Lyons.

Presenting the seniors' version of the NBC color peacock were Elaine Otis, Judy Minnig, Lana Richmond, Sue Amaden, Jane Pepple, and Judi Peter.

"Oh, no you won't, Horse Face Lena!" constable MacNabb admonishes a captured Mrs. Cavendish.

"Room and Bored"

"Two-timer!" screams Dotty, as she misinterprets a situation involving Jean Collins and Clyde Aiken.

The Junior Class' successful production of "Room and Bored" was presented to the public on April 8 and 9.

The plot of the play concerned the family of Raymond Collins, author of mystery novels, and the situation created by the appearance of Claudia Collins' new boy-friend, Craven Bentley, a struggling poet, and his associate, Zeena Deever.

The Collins sisters, Claudia and Jean, and their difficulties with family and boy-friends, and Mrs. Collins' confusion because of the many unexpected guests did nothing to help the situation.

The influences of Mrs. Audubon, a bird-watcher, Mrs. Aiken, a hypochrondiac, Silas MacNabb, a part-time constable, Mr. O'Reilly and his five unruly children, and the rich Mrs. Cavendish only complicated matters further.

The knowledge that a criminal hides among them increased the excitement within the group until a surprise ending revealed the villain.

Cindy Headley, who, when a particularly unfortunate situation necessitated a change in the cast, replaced Sue Blech, accomplished an excellent portrayal of Dorothy Foster.

Ray Collins welcomes Nell Bowden with "Well, you didn't come up here to talk about the birds and the cows. What's on your mind, you little old ten-percenter?"

"Ghost Wanted"

"Many spiders; big fat spiders," intones the mysterious Madam Zolga.

On November 20 and 21, the Senior Class presented a mystery-comedy, "Ghost Wanted," directed by Mr. Derrill Murphy.

The action of the play takes place in the living room of the rambling, old Stormgay house on Ramshead Rock, off the coast of Maine.

The Stormgay's maid, Troddy, screams in horror as she spies the monster approaching Granny Kate.

"No, it's serious," Jeff warns Gale.

"I . . . I . . . I kissed her!" cries an astonished Hugo.

The "ghost" of the dead Simon Gore haunts the Stormgay mansion as the Professor and Madam Zolga (detectives in disguise) investigate the situation. Gail and Ginger, while visiting Granny Kate, combine forces with job-hunters, Hugo and Jeff, to try to solve the mystery.

Azalea, the lobster woman from the village, brings the Law into the picture in the forms of Sheriff Bradshaw and Nora Vane, and a terrified, confused Troddy shakily serves tea to one and all.

"I know the sea like my own parlor floor!" vehemently states Azalea.

Suspicion turns from one character to another as more and more evidence is discovered, and screams and loud crashes are heard as the "ghost" turns up unexpectedly. But the entire household finally witnesses, terrified, the capture of Hatcher, the spy.

"This telephone is dead! exclaims a startled Nora Vane.

The "ghost" of the dead Simon Gore startles Hatcher as the Professor covers him and the Sheriff prepares the handcuffs.

Sophomore waitresses Barb Kaduk and Vicki Gloor and waiter Alan Rohrs serve seniors Ron Burdick, Wally May, Gary Wonderly, and Jacki Cunningham.

An underwater setting, including a sunken pirate ship, a huge open clam shell, a mermaid and a treasure chest resplendent with gold and jewels, nets, and various water plants and creatures such as an octopus, a shark, and a huge whale suspended above the dancers, created the atmosphere for the 1965 Junior-Senior Prom theme, "Fantasy of the Sea."

Such delicacies as "Jewels from Davy Jones' Locker" and "Chicken of the Sea" were served by the Sophomore waiters and waitresses. The waiters and waitresses were dressed in pastel blue and green, the girls sporting mock sea weed hair decorations and net scales on their mermaid shifts. They later also provided the entertainment for the Prom banquet, dancing to "Ebbtide."

Three of the many lovely couples who attended the 1965 Junior-Senior Prom dance to the music of the "Pastels."

"Fantasy of the Sea"

The Reverend Leslie Miller and Mrs. Miller enjoy the Prom Banquet at the head table along with Junior and Senior Class Presidents, Paul Murphy and Keith Stuckey, and the guest speaker, Mr. Robert Pickering.

Mr. Robert Pickering, from the Defiance, Ohio Yokefellow Organization, delivered an inspiring talk after the meal, concerning "Treasure Chests Buried at Sea."

Steve Beck then read the Seniors' Last Will and Testament.

Following the banquet, a formal dance was held, to the music of the "Pastels." Punch and cookies were served at this portion of the Prom.

At 11:30 p.m., the couples went home to change into informal dress, and then attended the movie, "Blue Hawaii", starring Elvis Presley, which marked the beginning of Post Prom. Several students won door prizes in the drawing that followed.

Concluding the evening was a "shindig" at the American Legion Hall, with music provided by the "Comets." Refreshments were served, and more doorprizes were won.

Thus concluded a memorable evening for Junior and Senior members of H.H.S.

"Undercurrents," Beth Ewing and Eric Pierman, dance to the rhythm of "The Breeze and I."

Chorus Presents "Music Man"

Under the direction of Miss Mary Sue Robinson, the chorus presented its second musical production, Meredith Wilson's "The Music Man."

"The Music Man' is the story of a traveling salesman, Professor Harold Hill, who stops in a small Iowa town, with the intention of swindling the townspeople by way of a phony boys' band. He encounters difficulty, however, in the form of Marian, the attractive librarian.

Ed Cleland played the part of Professor Harold Hill; Beth Ewing, Marian, the librarian; Virlynn Rex, Mrs. Paroo, Marian's mother; Paul Murphy, Mayor Shinn; Carolyn Neate, Mrs. Shinn; and Bob West, Winthrop Paroo.

Town ladies Linda Haase, Loraine Bassett, Debra Gecowetts, Diane Conner, and Carolyn Neate supply Professor Hill with the latest town gossip.

Finally the Wells Fargo Wagon arrives, and to the squeals of astonishment and delight the boys get their shiny, new band instruments.

Winthrop, Bob West, breaks into a discussion between Mrs. Paroo, Virlynn Rex, and her daughter, Marian, Beth Ewing, to announce his successful fishing trip.

In triumphant exuberance, Zaneeta, Ellen Longsworth, leads in drum major Tommy, Eric Pierman, to the wild applause of the townspeople.

"It Was a Dream Come True . . .

"It was a dream come true," words spoken by Queen Judi Peters, described the night of the 1964 Homecoming.

The dream began with the band leading the queen and her attendants and the Freshman float to the football field.

Candidates for queen and attendants were nominated by the football team and were voted on by the student body. The winners of the honors, announced at an assembly of the student body, were Freshman Attendant, Debbie Andrews; Sophomore Attendant, Betsy DeMuth; Junior Attendant, Sandy Bergman; Senior Attendant, Jane Pepple, and Queen, Judi Peters.

The queen and her attendants reign over the Homecoming dance held after the game. Seated at their places of honor, they are Betsy DeMuth, Jane Pepple, Judi Peters, Sandy Bergman, and Debbie Andrews.

An enthusiastic crowd cheers the team on to victory after another Aces touchdown.

Preceding the game, Senior Class President, Keith Stuckey, crowned Judi Queen of the 1964 Homecoming. She acknowledged the honor of reigning as queen, and wished the team good luck by presenting the captains, Ron Laux and Marve Edwards, the traditional football.

A victory for the Aces over the Edon Bombers, 32-0, perfected the dream.

A fitting conclusion to the evening, the queen and her court reigned over a dance held at the high school after the game.

Aces Flash in Homecoming Victory

"Flashy play!" comments Tom Sholl, as the Aces score once more.

The ball soars, and Ray Hofmeister is in to intercept it.

Ron Laux scores again!

The zenith of the football season is the annual Homecoming game in this year's extravaganza, thrills and exciting action were the order of the evening, devastating the Edon Bombers.

Craig Andrews brought the first TD in the opening minutes of the contest; John Ewing added the extra points. In the second stanza, Aces John Ewing and Andrews added eight to the total, and Ewing later crossed the line for six more. The third chapter was scoreless, but the fourth canto brought action from Marve Edwards, with Paul Carwile making good the TD. Ace John Ewing totaled two more, as the Aces won their second Homecoming contest in as many consecutive seasons by the final tally of 32-0.

In the opening game, it was the Aces all the way, 34-8. The Aces were in full go from the toss of the coin to the final gun, as Woodlan went down in defeat.

On a rainy, muddy September 18, the Aces skidded to a 12-0 defeat. A pair of flashy backs combined for the Paulding scoring; that made the difference, and the Aces sported a 1-1 slate.

A harsh Hoosier team from Auburn handed the Aces loss No. 2, 41-0, as well as the temporary loss of star halfback Gene Scott.

For a Homecoming victory over the Edon Bombers, 32-0, Craig Andrews and John Ewing filled the big gap in the backfield left by Gene Scott.

A rough, beefed-up Aces, defense couldn't hold the offensive scoring machine of the Archbold Blue Streaks. Hicksville's Aces, slumping, went down 31-0, recording their third setback.

Another loss for the Aces came, 39-0! As Garrett railroaded the gridiron, two long weeks had passed since Keith Mendenhall's Aces had crossed the goal line.

It was back on the winning side of the ledger again with a resounding victory over the Leipsic Vikings, 14-6. Scott returned to active duty, and was in his usual top form. The Aces were moving again.

A polished Howe Military team was a tough one for the Aces, but they held on for a well-played 18-14 victory.

Hicksville faced Payne in a Green Meadows Conference encounter, as well as for the final round of ball playing. As usual, Scott and Laux dominated the scoring. The defense held the anemic Panther attack, and the Aces barnstormed to a 34-0 victory and to a winning season for freshman skipper Keith Mendenhall.

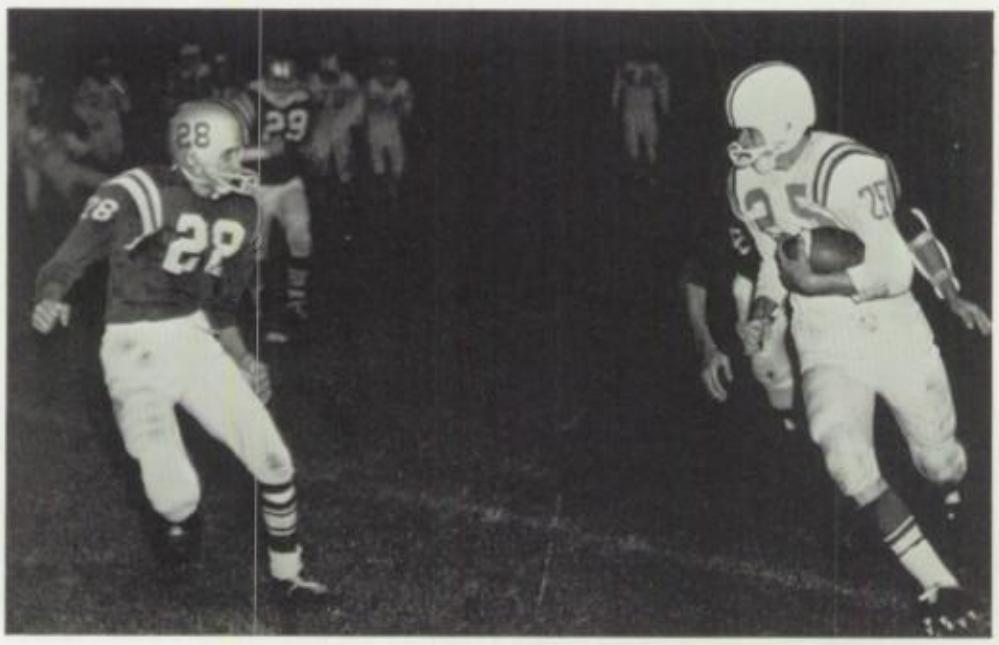
Fighting Aces' Spirit Never Fades

Through team participation, students receive the glow of team spirit, the thrill of victory, the agony of defeat, and, with these lessons, both mediums learn the true value of sportsmanship.

So served the Aces of Keith Mendenhall in 1964.

Though coming through with a lack-luster record of 5-4, the grid Aces managed to place six of their members on the Northwest Buckeye All-League Team.

William Jones, Dave Mastin, George Cherry, Head Coach Keith Mendenhall, and Joe Sukup comprise the big five of the Aces' future.



Marve Edwards bursts away against an Edon opponent.

Another important factor in the '64 campaign was the ability of the Aces to make the all-important comeback, which is advantageous to any team. To dramatize this situation, the Aces, in mid-season, went into a slump, being shut out 31-0 by Archbold before the home fans at City Park. The very next week, the stumbling Aces bowed to a fast streaking backfield of the Garrett Railroaders. Everyone, including Keith Mendenhall, wondered when the acres were going to cross that goal line again. But, as in past Aces' history, the '64 squad pulled out of the slump and came back the very next week to whip Leipsic's Vikings.

It's all the Aces in on this one.

Down goes Dale Goeltzenleuchter—players, managers, and coaches all dash to the scene of a possible injury.

The All-League players included fleet Gene Scott, who literally tore up the chalk lines, mainly in the area of the goal line, and Ray Hofmeister, who did an outstanding job on defense, while occasionally coming up with a key pass interception. Another mainstay of the Aces' defense line was Jim Massie; this veritable block-buster was frequently seen scalping the harassed offensive secondary of many of the Aces' opponents. Consistently doing a fine job on offense and defense was John Hoovler, who always came through with a good play.

The big three in the backfield were Marve Edwards, fleet Gene Scott, and stable Craig Andrews. Due to these boys' incessant battering away at the defense, the Aces upheld their scoring gusto.

In the locker room, managers Gerald Burdick, Dave Green, and Fred Taylor prepare for another big game.

Preparing to bite the dust, John Ewing sets the ball in his chest.

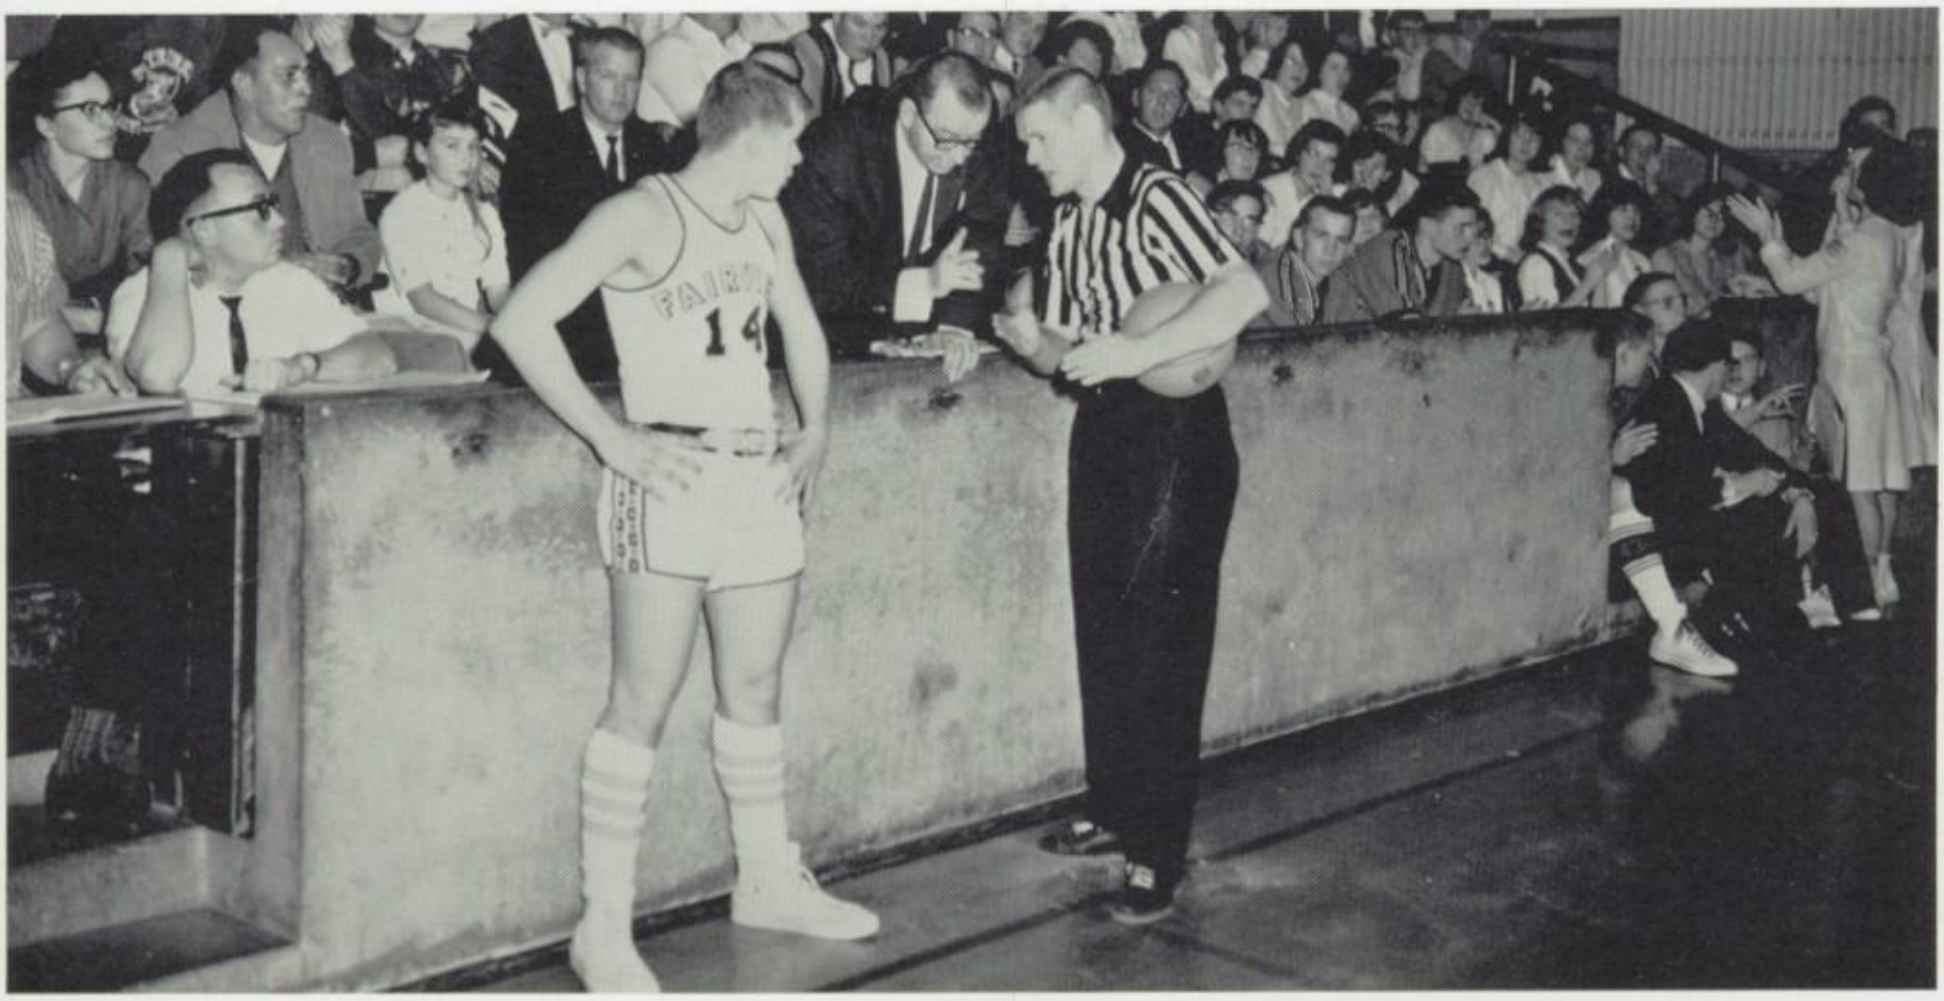
Aces Spark Season With Court Thrills

George Cherry's Aces came through with another of their sensational seasons in the eyes of both the fans and the student body, but the Aces also came through with a big hatful of hardwood disappointments.

Opening the '64-'65 campaign on the road, the Aces lost to a tough North Central five 95-83. At home to Hilltop, the Aces blew another, this time finishing to the tune of 82-64. Bad weather halted the first of a weekend series, but the Aces responded the next night and salted away their first victory, on a cold and blustery evening, against the Stryker Panthers, 62-46.

As the Aces invaded the home of their perennial arch-rival Antwerp, the classy quintet from Paulding County was on a string of six straight victories. The Aces fell as victim No. 6 to the Blue and White, who gobbled them up 78-71.

The tide of victory and defeat can change almost as quickly as the day into night, and so went luck for the Aces. With this change, Hicksville rewrote the record books with a 98-73 victory over the Hornets of Grover Hill. The 98-point tally stands as the highest ever in the Red and White's scoring history. In a quick follow-up, the Aces came up with a winning decision over the Ayersville Pilots, 60-57.



In the heat of a ball game the coach likes to know why an official has called a certain play. Here is a classic example of that fact as George Cherry discusses a technical point with a referee.

Aces Sport Lusty 13-7 Mark

Dave Sholl battles it out with an Apache back-court man on a jump-ball situation.

Payne's Panthers became the Aces' next victim, falling to the surging Hicksville five 87-49. The Edgerton Bulldogs couldn't even manage a faint growl as the Aces plowed over them 61-51.

Teaching the Aces how Hoosiers play ball, with a tough, running game, Harlan's Hawks halted the Aces' win streak at four. The Hawks flapped past the Aces 68-49.

After a previous Green Meadows Conference victory over the Ayersville Pilots, the Aces annexed their second victory in Meadows competition, bombing the Apaches from Fairview 58-50, in a game the Aces fought for to the very end. Next on the list were the Edon Bombers, whom the Aces casually set back 85-52.

Cherry's Aces zipped by the Tinora Rams for their third Green Meadows victory, 48-43, and a possible Green MC title. But down in Paulding where the Panthers play ball, other ideas were being formulated, as things began to shape up for a rumble between the Aces and the Panthers.

Meanwhile, the Aces continued on their winning way, spinning back the Stryker Panthers again, 68-45. Fairview fell victim to the Aces again, 68-65, while the Aces worked on a six-game winning streak. The Bulldogs from Edgerton came into town for a replay and got another dose—a defeat, this time 66-61, as the Aces set their sights on the GMC tilt with the Paulding Panthers.

Undaunted Hardwood Aces Hold Hand in Competition

Bill Metz goes 'way up for this one as the Aces prepare to set their pattern of play.

Before a jam-packed house the Friday following their victory over the Bulldogs from Edgerton, the Aces pulled away with a bulging 10-point advantage with but a single quarter left in their contest with Paulding. Then utter chaos struck. The Aces' scoring machine collapsed, and the Panthers whipped in buckets from all sides of the court. The final heart-breaking result was a tie at the end of regulation play. The Panthers played their spirited type of basketball, and they won it all 78-76.

When the Aces met the Oakwood Bobcats, the final game proved to be a close one throughout. After a first period run-away, with the Aces on top 20-10, the Bobcats crashed the deficit to only two points at the intermission. The third canto was another repeat of the first and second, as the pesky Cats narrowed the gap to 41-40. The final result was a 59-56 verdict for the Cats, and a double loss for the stunned Aces. In the last game of the season, the Aces trounced Blue Creek 75-66.

Throughout the season, one of many thrills, the Aces displayed their typical Hicksville determination to win the big games. Their zeal for the major games left something to be desired in several of the lesser contests, but their final record stood on the winning side of the ledger 13-7. The Aces learned many new tactics, while playing and acting like true sportsmen, even when swallowing the bitter pill of defeat.

a Winning

Marve Edwards goes in all alone for the "bunny."

Time out, and the Aces talk the present hardwood situation over with Aces' mentor George Cherry.

Inside that crowd of Apaches is Paul Murphy, who has just logged a field goal.

In the opening tournament contest, Hicksville played heads-up ball all the way around the court, although the classy Blue Jays from Florida displayed some rough and tough hardwood action. In the third explosive quarter, the Aces bombed in seventeen big markers to a mere two for the hapless Jays. For the fourth quarter, Coach Cherry substituted his reserves for his regulars, and the JV's did a credible job of holding the Jays, as the final stood 81-58 for the Aces.

From this, Cherry's Aces moved up to meet the Ayersville Pilots on a sad Monday night. The Pilots hold a tournament nemesis on the Aces that the Red and White cannot seem to overcome. In this case the verdict was 64-50 for Ayersville, in a close game that was fought tooth and nail. The lead stood 35-32 for Ayersville with but a quarter left in the contest, but the ol' monster foul trouble caught the Aces and gave Ayersville the game.

Reserve Aces Show Promise for Tomorrow's Varsity

Hicksville's Ace reserve squad played some fancy games and had a greater fan following than most of the previous squads. The second team, under the tutorship of William K. Jones, compiled an 11-7 record for the 1964-1965 season.

Starting with an opening victory at North Central, 41-31, the Aces next sped past Hilltop 43-40. Stryker's Panthers posed the next problem for the Aces; the game was a tough one, and the final stood 60-44 for Stryker. Next came the Archers from Antwerp with another loss for Jones, 41-34. Immediately the Aces whomped the Hornets from Grover Hill 54-37, followed by a 48-43 verdict over Ayersville.

Payne provided one of the better fan-interest games as the Aces whipped the Panthers 34-32. The squad next bombed Edgerton 49-43, then bowed to Harlan's Hawks 37-21. Fairview copped a 45-39 decision; in a quick comeback, the Aces topped the blue Bombers of Edon 45-33.

Another thriller on the Aces' ledger was a tight 43-41 verdict over Tinora. The next Aces' victim was Stryker, as the Aces avenged themselves 41-38. Fairview took their second game of the season from the Aces, 47-43, but the Aces again trounced Edgerton, 59-43. Paulding kayoed the Red and White 60-35, and Oakwood took a 46-42 victory. The Aces' reserves finished with a slim victory over Blue Creek, 37-36.

After being elected in the spring, and sponsoring a card party for necessary finances, the Varsity five attended Smith-Walbridge Cheerleading Camp in June. Here they earned two blue ribbons and two red ribbons in the daily competition, and a blue ribbon as an overall rating.

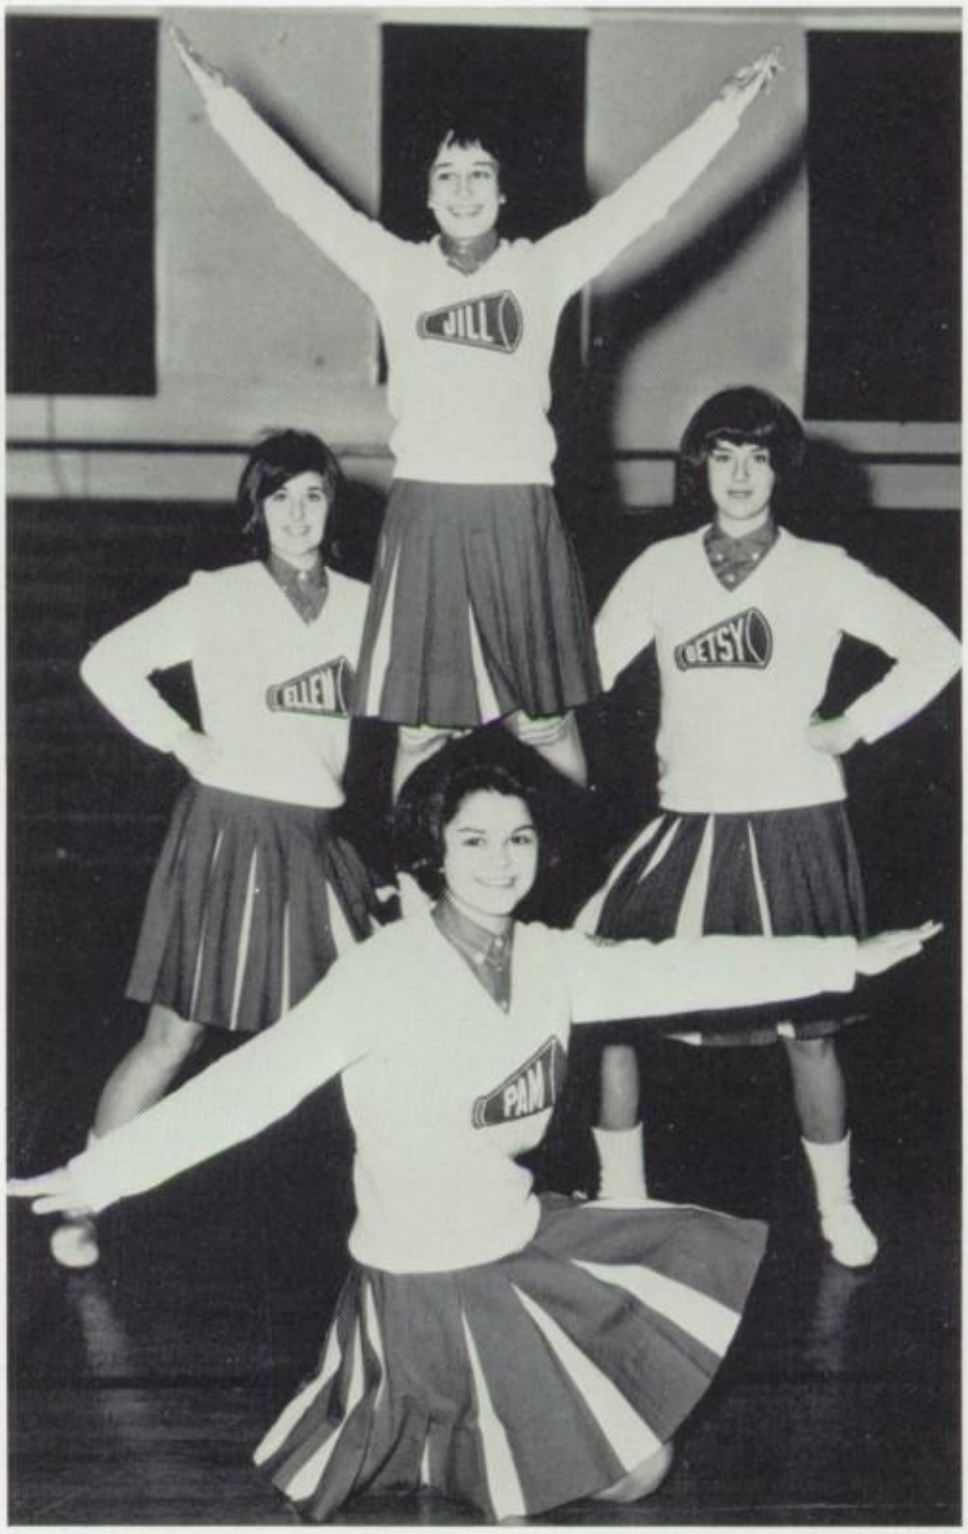
To be qualified for cheerleading, girls must have and maintain a C average; they are judged by coaches, faculty, and student officers on ability, attitude, enthusiasm, personality, character, and leadership. Mrs. McKeen, the cheerleading advisor, maintains close contact with the squads, offering them helpful advice and correction.

These energetic girls spent the entire season practicing, making artistic signs, planning pep sessions, and finding new ways to promote school spirit. Hicksville's peppy misses, noted throughout the area for their superior ability, have cheered the Aces on to an outstanding season.

These four seniors and one junior, Jane Pepple, Judi Peters—Captain, Jacki Cunningham, Elaine Otis, and Vic Hart, gave many long hours backing the basketball team and trying diligently to promote school spirit.

Backing the Junior High Aces, ten enthusiastic girls, Toni Thiel, Diane Keeley, Jo Ellen Rex, Cheryl McClellan, Debbie Kerr, Maurine Banks, Paula Richmond, Nancy Meek, Belinda Weber, and Carol Schooley, added spark to the games.

Fight Aces Fight!



Peppy reserve girls, Pam Andrews, Ellen Longsworth, Jill Scott—Captain, and Betsy DeMuth, cheered the team through a victorious season.

Freshman cheerleaders, Cheryl Altman—Captain, Linda Larson, Pam Wonderly, and Lora Rohrs, gave the Aces squad full support.

Carry Full Schedule

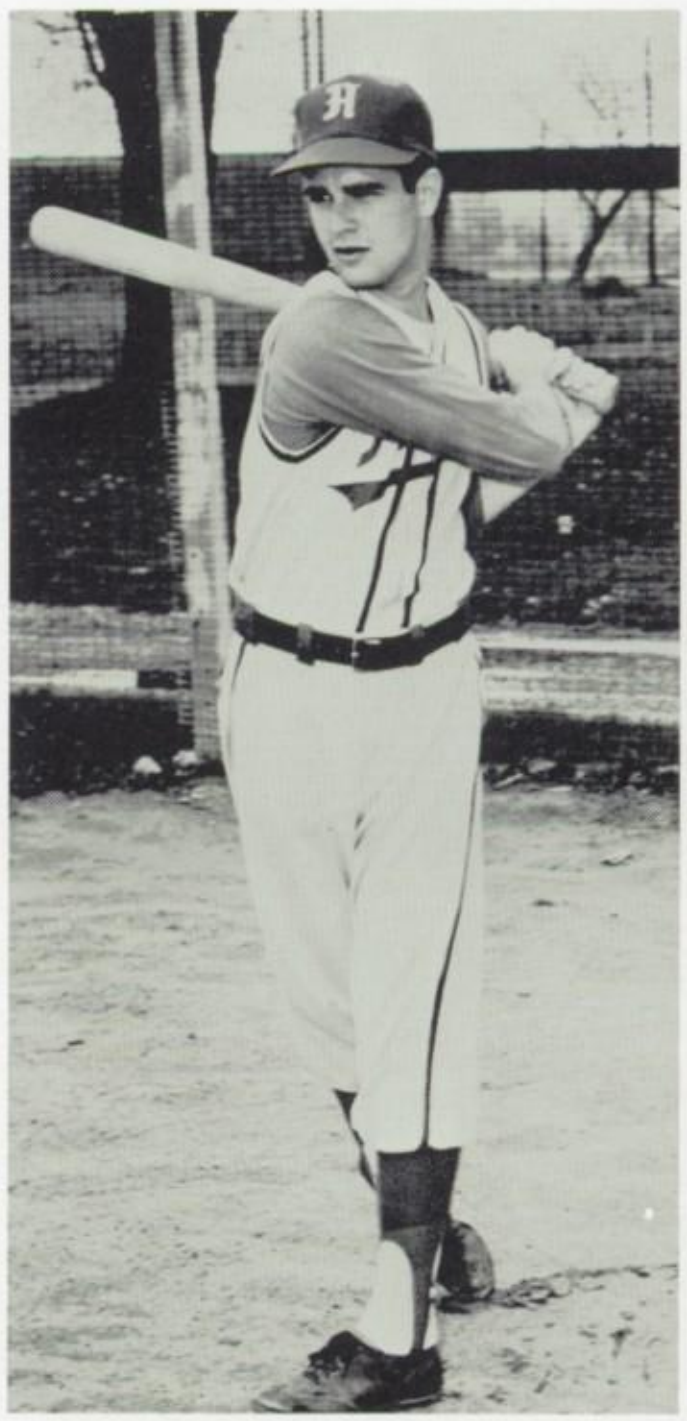
William Jones' diamond Aces featured a well-disciplined squad that played a smooth and controlled game. They fashioned a 10-11 slate, winning one tournament game.

Hicksville opened with a loss at North Central 10-2, but came home to whip Paulding in a double bill 3-0 and 1-0. Ayersville triumphed 8-4, and Bryan clouted the Aces 9-4. Defiance's Junior Varsity bombed the Aces 12-11 and 10-1. Bryan again found the Aces tough, as they were canned 12-0; Oakwood went down 3-1. The Aces journeyed to Montpelier, returning with a shutout, 3-0. Fairview went down 6-5, and the Aces sank Crestview 5-4.

Hicksville began the tournament with a 5-4 win over North Central. Next the Aces were rained out, going down to Stryker 11-2.

Tinora cashed in on the Aces 6-5, while Edgerton pulled another squeaker on the Aces 5-4. The Aces got some revenge on Defiance's JV 3-2, before losing to Crestview 5-4 and Fairview 11-4. The Aces journeyed to Edon, losing 4-3, then whipped Edgerton 8-1 in their final horsehide encounter.

Senior members of the team, Ron Laux, John Ewing, and Gene Edwards, add their abilities to the Aces nine.



Following through with good form, John Ewing gets a hit.

Trackmen

Up and over the pole goes Warren Hart, in a classy shot of the spectacular vaulter in action.

Coach George Cherry stated at the beginning of the cinder season that "this will be a rebuilding season." George Cherry's cindermen, clad in their new track togs, zipped to a 9-4 record and third berth in the Green Meadows Conference.

To add to the personal mentor's year, he had a duel between two titans—Jim Massie and Jon Rohrs—who held a raging battle over the shot put record. Big Jim Masse finally won the top honors with a heave of 48'-9".

Among other records that fell on the track field was the pole vault, with Warren Hart copping top honors at the 10'-3" mark. Dave Schlosser added the high hurdles, 16.1:05 seconds.

Coach Cherry Names 'Most Valuable' Cinder Stars

Dave Schlosser practices his honor-winning form in preparation for the next track meet.

New '65 Records

Pole Vault	Warren Hart 1083"
Shot Put	Jim Massie 48'1/4"
High Hurdles	Dave Schlosser 16.1.05 seconds
440-yard Dash	Gary Wonderly 55.5 seconds
Mile relay	Darrell Stoll, Gary Green, Gary Wonderly, Dave Schlosser 3.54 minutes

Gary Wonderly set a new 440-yard dash record with a jaunt of 55.5 seconds, while the mile relay squad raced for a 3.45 minute timing—Gary Green, Darrell Stoll, Dave Schlosser, and Gary Wonderly holding honors as the relayers.

At the close of the track season, Coach George Cherry named the two most valuable tracksters for 1965. Gary Wonderly and Dave Schlosser hold tie honors for their contributions to the Hicksville track team.

Toe the line, guys, for the mile relay!

At the end waits the finish line, as the boys give their all for the final moments.

From
the first inquisitive looks of kindergartners to the final good-byes
of seniors, each student travels
a well-beaten yet varying path trodden by multitudes
before him.
As the years fly swiftly, each advancement brings new discoveries,
new areas of study.
Tied
to each year are golden streamers, coloring each of thirteen years with definitive meaning.

Underclassmen view
the untouchable seniors,
seniors
envy the innocent, natural children.
Each dreams of the other's position:
why can I not be as they?
Yet
as each May concludes,
another class
graduates from Hicksville, and enters the world.
Each underclassman takes a step closer to the goldenness of adulthood.

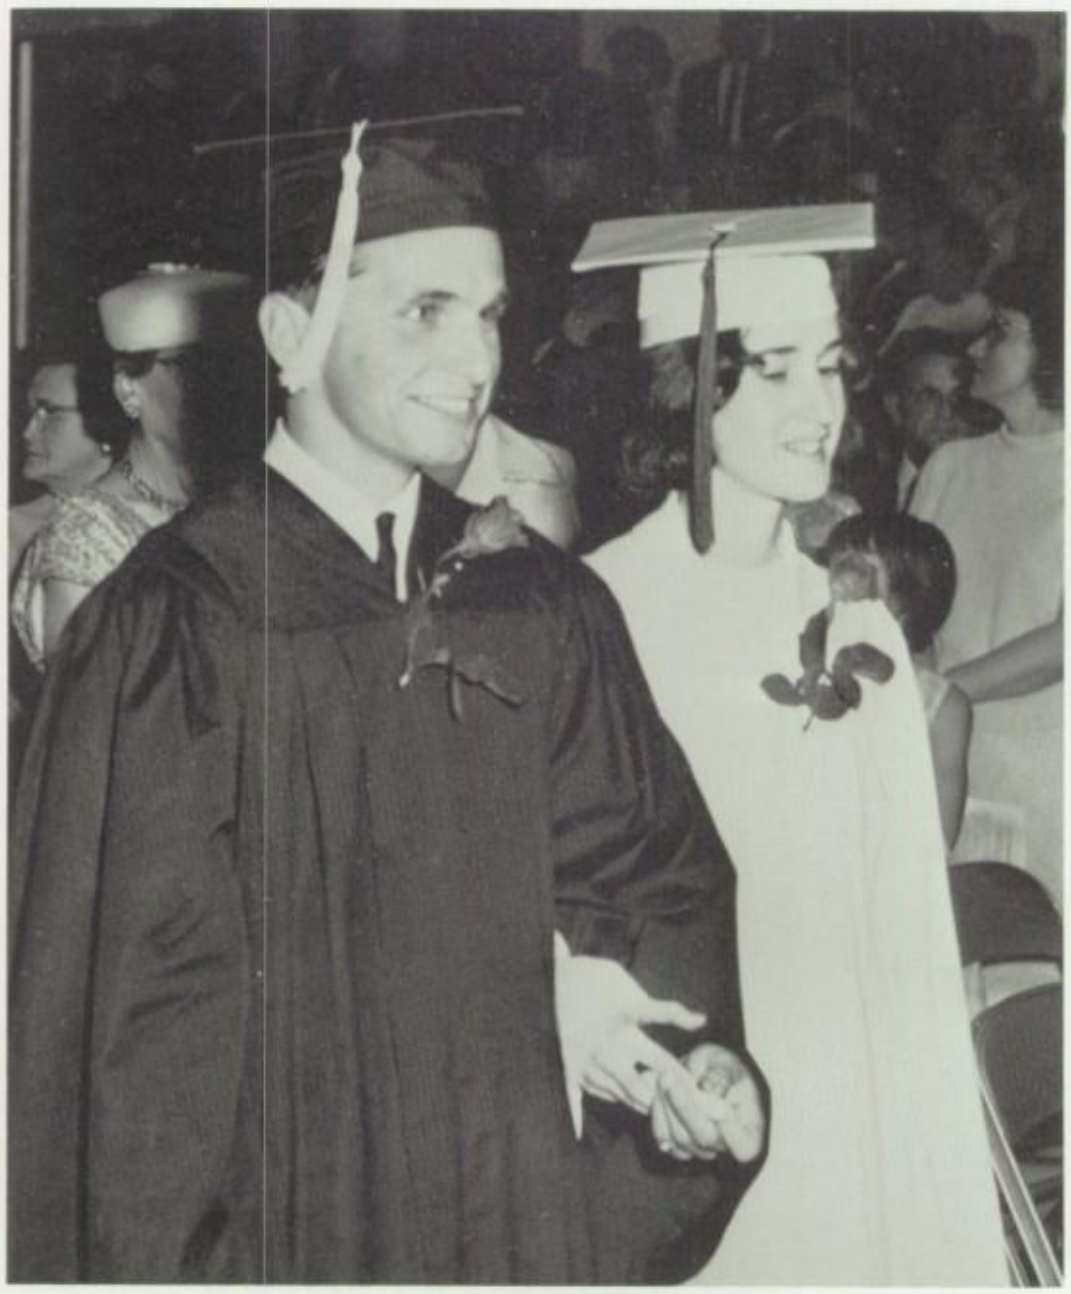
Taking a break between classes are Joe Adams, Millard Ensign, and Greg Bauer.



To the proud strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," the seniors enter the crowded gymnasium for their final appearance.

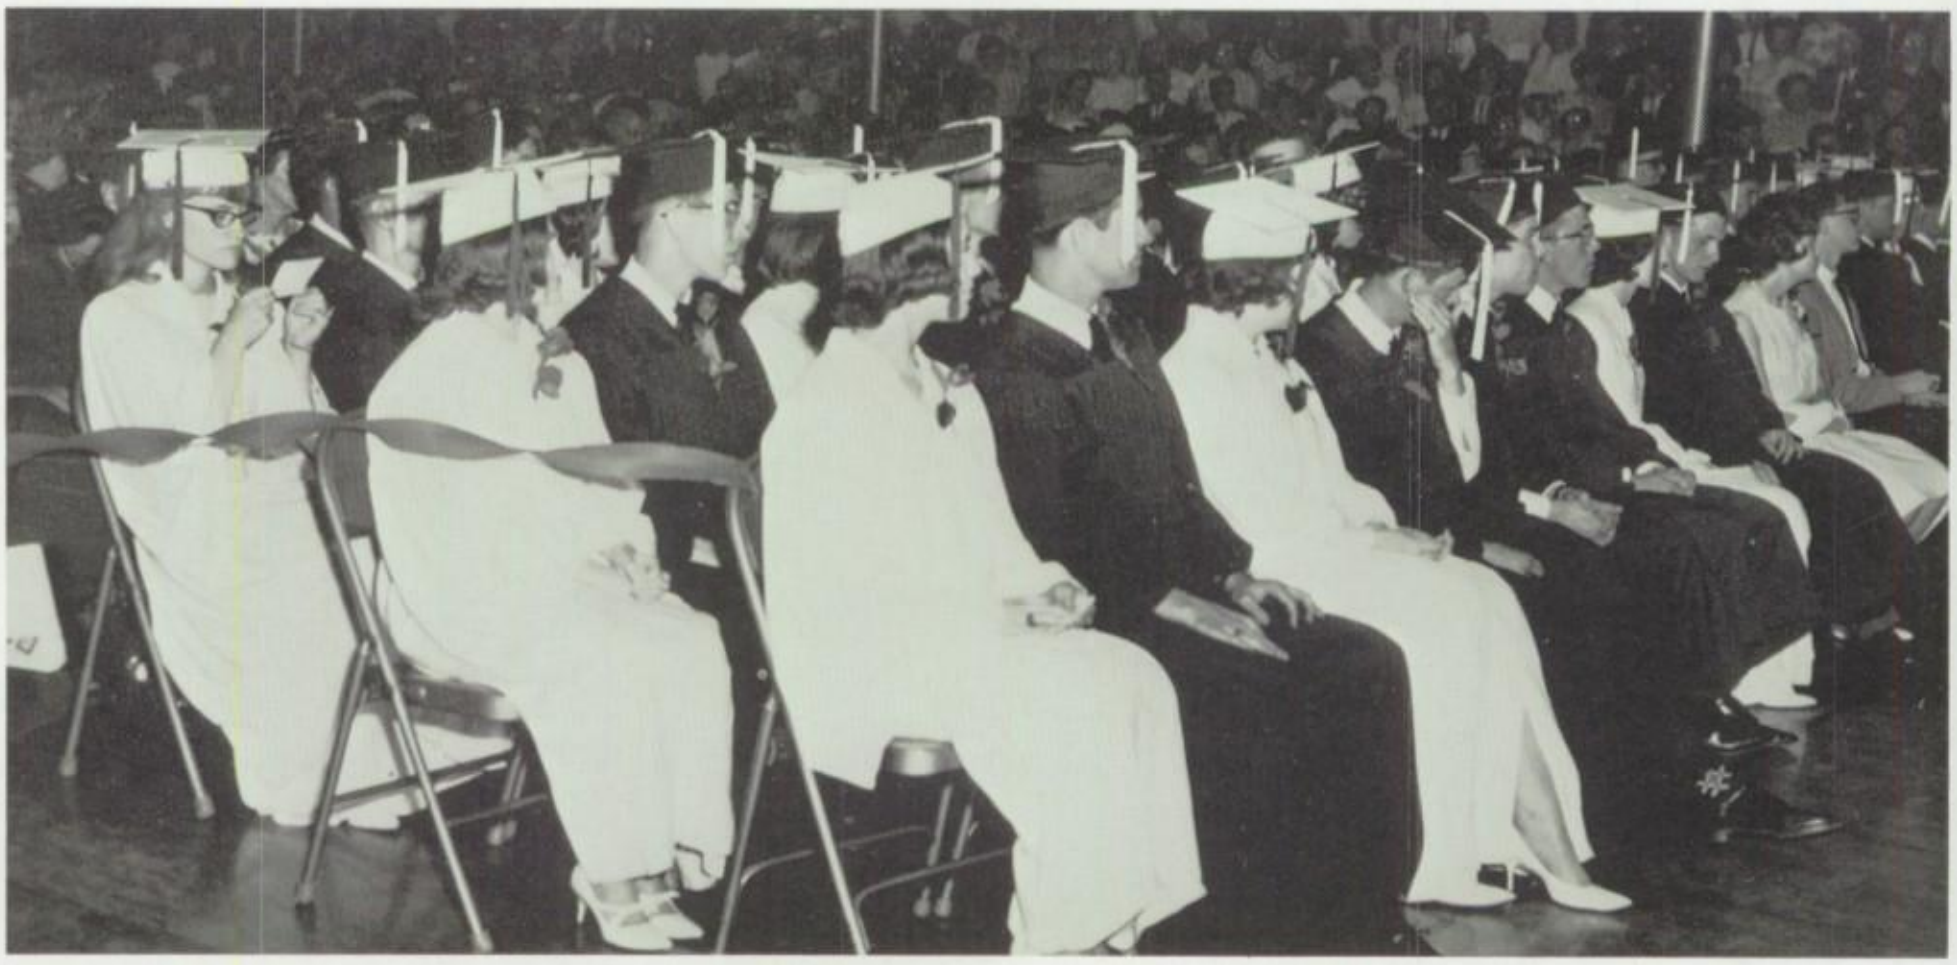
'Class of 1965 – Great Time for Sunday, May 16, the Hicksville ministers presented the Baccalaureate Service for the class of 1965. Reverend Leslie Miller gave the sermon on the topic "When Life Makes Sense."

Other members of the Hicksville Ministerial Association—Reverend Edwin L. Myers, Reverend Maynard Powell, and Reverend Dale Neller—participated in the service. The Hicksville High School Chorus provided the music with the selections: "Halls of Ivy," and "Lo, A Voice from Heaven, Sounding."

Following the overture, "Proud Heritage," by the High School Band, the class of 1965 entered Hicksville High School's gymnasium Wednesday, May 19, for commencement exercises. Ronald Laux introduced the salutatorian, Walli May, who spoke on "Peace Flourishes When Reason Rules." Keith Stuckey then presented Valedictorian, Judi Peters, who described her feelings toward "The Road Not Taken." Concluding the seniors' participation in the program, Gene Edwards sang "You'll Never Walk Alone," the official song of the class of 1965.



All eyes of the class of 1965 are on the Reverend Tennyson Guyer, commencement speaker, as he delivers his spell-binding address, "A Great Time for Daring."

Today Is a Daring'

Reverend Tennyson Guyer, state senator, spoke in a serious vein, yet his speech was interspersed with irresistible humor.

"'Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,'" quotes Valedictorian Judi Peter from Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken."

One-half hour before the processional, the commercial room was strewn with caps, gowns, red roses, and seniors.

Salutatorian Walli May points out that "peace flourishes when reason rules."

Baccalaureate – Graduation – the End Has Come for the Class of 1965

Almost graduates, the members of the class of 1965 rise to receive their diplomas.

After thirteen years, Ellen Walter shakes hands with school board president William Cleland, Sr., and receives her diploma.

Ron Burdick realizes the final instant—captures the point of turning, the granting of a certificate of graduation.

Reverend Tennyson Guyer, state senator, is considered one of the best public speakers in Ohio. His challenge, or dare, to youth, gripped each of the members of the class of 1965, and inspired many to try a little more, to dare to do.

Following Reverend Guyer's address, entitled "A Great Time for Daring," Mr. William Cleland, Sr., president of the board of education, presented the diplomas to the class. The service was closed with a benediction by Reverend Burton Crosby, and the graduates of 1965 retired to "Coronation March."

Light
of today,
of the modern economy, each graduate has gone into the world,
become of the world,
played his role in the world.
Some,
whose duties are done,
rest as memorials,
their deeds pay tribute to their public education in Hicksville.
Parchment
tinged in gold, tells their stories, their hopes,
their dreams.
Industrialized,
the day of the
ready made,
the mass manufacture,
the extensive research
of many men,
has designed products
necessary to all.
Services
of these businesses and concerns play prominent roles
in the town.
The gold illumination
of sunlight
on a store front performs the service of a welcome mat, glowing with the name of the proprietor.

Alumni and Advertising

Throwing its reflection onto the forty-nine books which followed it, The Blue and White, 1916, lit the way through which many faltered; guided by this driving light, none have failed.

Hixonian Honors The Blue and White

To the class of 1916,
Hixonian, 1965,
pays honor
for its tireless efforts toward creating the monument, the Hicksville High annual,
which has grown
for fifty years.
Today the Blue and White, 1916, has become the Hixonian, 1965.
Yet its goal—
depicting a year of school—remains the same.
Modes have changed the format;
the people have not been changed—they yet strive to portray, in their book, an accurate picture which will stand for posterity.
To the class of 1916,
the 1965 annual staff dedicates the Hixonian, 1965,
hoping that it retains and reflects admirably the perseverance and zeal
of the twenty-four who produced
The Blue and White

Tomorrow—
golden tomorrow—comes rapidly,
on winged feet,
calling
to all:
a new day is—
forget yesterday's woes,
enjoy tomorrow,
live!
Beyond
the high school years loom mansions, built or to be created.
For each person—
the fulfillment of one dream.
Culture speaks
of a golden age;
to each man is given the chance to evolve his golden age.
With this annual closes
a chapter in the life of each student
in the Hicksville schools.
Tomorrow
is theirs,
it stands
to be molded by their slender fingers and sensitive minds.
Hixonian, 1965
belongs to the ages.
Over the horizon
tempts the golden tongue
of the future..
